Sir, The Measure of sending the German Troops North about Scotland has happily defeated the purpose of the French and Dutch to intercept them, who had appointed two small Squadrons to cruize for them between Bremer Lehe and Dover, and I have the Satisfaction to hear the whole were safe in the North Sea the middle of last Month, and <sup>d</sup>I hope will have reached New York before the Packet by which this goes can arrive there. I inclose the embarkation return with <sup>e</sup>Copy of General Faucitt's Letter to Lord Stormont transmitting it, by which you will see that the <sup>f</sup>'number now on their way, added to those of the last year's Complement, which were early sent out in this, together with the British Regiments and Recruits sent to Carolina, exceeds Six Thousand Effective Men from Europe for the augmentation of

The inclosed Extract of Major General Faucitt's Letter to Lord Stormont points out an Abuse which is made of the liberty of unlimited Baggage with which the German Troops have been always indulged, and I send it to you by The King's Command that you may direct the Search and Examination to be made which Gen<sup>l</sup> Faucitt proposes, as the only effectual means of punishing the Persons concerned in this clandestine Traffick, and of preventing the repetition of such Abuses.

The Accounts received of the designs of the Spaniards upon the Bahama Islands make us anxious for their safety, and as it appears by the inclosed Return of the Detachment of the Garrison Battalion transmitted by Governor Maxwell that the Force sent thither is greatly reduced, it is wished you would take an early Opportunity of Augmenting it with Convalescents to its former Numbers. Your recommendation of that Battalion for the American Establishment I have now the pleasure to acquaint you is approved by Lord Amherst, and in consideration that the Officers now in it have in general to plead the merit of having served in British Regiments

Sir Henry Clinton, K. B. to Earl Cornwallis, dated

[Received July 12th, 1781, from Lieut. Col. M'Pherson.]

My Lord, 'I inclose to your Lordship copies of some intercepted letters; by these your Lordship will see that we are threatened with a siege. The enemy have had bad information respecting my force; it is not, however, as your Lordship knows, what it ought to be. <sup>a</sup>Your Lordship will see by <sup>b</sup>Fayette's letter, <sup>c</sup>that you have little more opposed to you than his <sup>d</sup>corps and an unarmed militia; for, we are told here, that the Pennsylvania <sup>e</sup>troops have revolted a second time, at York-town. Your Lordship can therefore certainly spare two thousand, and the sooner they come the better; without it should be your intention to adopt my <sup>f</sup>ideas of a move <sup>g</sup>to Baltimore or the Delaware Neck, and put yourself in <sup>h</sup>nearer co-operation with us<sup>2</sup>; but even in that case you can spare us something, I suppose.<sup>i</sup>

I am naturally to expect reinforcement from Europe, but not having heard from thence since February, I can say nothing positive as to when it sailed. It is rumoured here (from what authority I cannot <sup>k</sup>learn) that the three battalions from Corke are arrived at Charles-town, and that your Lordship has ordered them to Chesapeake. Should that have been the case, I have, by this opportunity directed them not to disembark, but to join me here as soon as a convoy can be obtained for them; in the first place because I want them, and in the next, because it would be death to them to act in Chesapeake in July.

From all the letters I have seen, I am of <sup>l</sup>opinion, if circumstances of provisions, stores, &c. turn out as they wish, that the enemy will certainly attack this post. As for men, for such an object as this (circumstanced as they suppose it to be) it cannot be doubted that they can raise a sufficient number. By a commissary of provision's intercepted letter, he now feeds (at West-point only) eight thousand, and they are coming in very fast. My dispatches for your Lordship, and the stores, &c. you sent for, have been waiting for a convoy these ten days. <sup>a</sup>I hope it will sail immediately, but I dispatch this runner in the mean time, referring your Lordship to the bearer, Lieutenant Nairne, for particulars.

I request that the officer commanding at Portsmouth may have positive orders to dispatch a runner once a week while they last, whether he has any thing material to say or not. Every circumstance in the present situation of the corps of this army is of consequence to know. As your Lordship is now so near, it will be unnecessary for you to send your dispatches immediately to the Minister: you will therefore be so good to send them to me in future.<sup>3.4</sup>

I am much in want of howitzes, &c. I think your Lordship can spare some; if so, I request they may be sent, and a good proportion of artillery men with them. Captain Fage of the Artillery, and Lieutenant Sutherland of the Engineers are to return here, as I particularly want them; and Lieutenant <sup>b</sup>Fyers, if your Lordship can possibly spare him. I likewise request that your Lordship will send General Arnold to me.

I send by Lieutenant-colonel Macpherson a commission <sup>c</sup>for Colonel Abercrombie to act as Brigadier-general until further orders; but I fear it will not be in my power to establish him in that rank, as I understand there are six older than him coming out. The commission will therefore be delivered to your Lordship, to use or not as you may see expedient. But at all events I imagine your Lordship will not think it necessary to give the commission to Colonel Abercrombie, whilst Major-general Leslie, or Brigadier-general Arnold, remain with you.

<sup>3c</sup> S. H. C. has been blamed for permitting L C to correspond with the Minister. S H permitted him to report that no time might be lost, but when his Lordship was in short communicating with

S H C. he was desired to desist of course

<sup>4a</sup> I began to feel the bad Effects of the permission I had so liberally given his Lordship to report directly to the Minister.

‘I am persuaded <sup>b</sup>that I need not say to your Lordship how necessary it is that I should be informed without delay of every change of position in your Lordship’s army; and I am sure you will excuse me for observing that had it been possible upon the arrival of the last reinforcement from hence (which I am told joined <sup>c</sup>you the day after the date of your letter of the 20th ult.) for your Lordship to have let me know your views and intentions, I should not now be at a loss to judge of the force you might want for your operations. Ignorant therefore as I am of them, I can only trust, <sup>d</sup>that as your Lordship will see by the inclosed<sup>e</sup> letters, my call for a reinforcement is not a wanton one, you will send me what you can spare as soon as it may be expedient; for should your Lordship be engaged in a move of such importance as to require the employment of your whole force, I would by no means wish to starve or obstruct it; but in that case would rather endeavour to wait a little longer, until my occasions grow more urgent, or your situation <sup>f</sup>can admit of your detaching<sup>g</sup>; of which, however, I request to be informed with all possible dispatch.<sup>h</sup> But with respect to the European reinforcement, I must request, that should it arrive in the Chesapeake, it may be sent to me without delay, agreeable to the orders I have sent to the officer commanding at Portsmouth, and the requisition I make by this opportunity to Captain Hudson, or officer commanding the King’s ships.<sup>i</sup>

<sup>b</sup>My Lord, I am honoured with your Lordship's letter of the 26th ult. and as I am unwilling to detain the convoy, I shall not have time to write so fully to your Lordship as I would wish.

The detachments I have made from this army into Chesapeak, since General Leslie's expedition in October last, inclusive, have amounted to seven thousand seven hundred and twenty-four effectives; and at the time your Lordship made the junction with the corps there, there were under Major-general Phillips's orders five thousand three hundred and four; a force I should have hoped, would be sufficient of itself to <sup>i</sup>have carried on <sup>k</sup>operations in any of the southern provinces <sup>l</sup>of America<sup>m</sup>; where, as appears by the intercepted letters of Washington and La Fayette, they are in no situation to stand against even a division of that army.<sup>n</sup>

By the intercepted letters, inclosed to your Lordship in my last dispatch, you will observe, that I am threatened with a siege in this post. My present effective force is only ten thousand nine hundred and thirty-one. With respect to <sup>i</sup>that the enemy may collect for such an object, it is probable they may amount to at least twenty thousand, besides reinforcement to the French, (which, from pretty good authority, I have reason to expect,) and the numerous militia of the five neighbouring provinces. Thus circumstanced, I am persuaded, your Lordship will be of opinion, that the sooner I concentrate my force the better. Therefore, (unless your Lordship, after the receipt of my <sup>j</sup>letter of the 29th of May, and 8th inst. should incline to agree with me in opinion and judge it right to adopt my ideas respecting the move to Baltimore or the Delaware Neck, &c.) These, my Lord, are not, I think, to be found in Virginia; nor dare I positively <sup>a</sup>assert, that under our present circumstances they are to be found in great numbers any where else, or that their exertions when found will answer our expectations: <sup>b</sup> but I believe there is a greater probability of finding them in Pennsylvania than in any, except the southern provinces. In these your Lordship has already made the experiment; it has there failed—they are gone from us, and I fear are not to be recovered. The only one therefore <sup>c</sup>now remaining is this; and if I continue in the command I am determined to give it a fair trial, whenever it can be done with propriety: I am not, however, likely to have a choice of <sup>d</sup>operation at least for some time to come. Nor can I altogether agree with your Lordship, in thinking that a desultory move against Philadelphia would do more harm than good. There, my Lord, are collected their principal depots of stores for the campaign, an immense quantity of European and West-India commodities, and no inconsiderable supply of money, which their uninterrupted trade and cruisers have lately procured them; and from these funds they are now forming a bank by subscription, which, if it succeeds, may give fresh vigour to their cause.<sup>8</sup> Could we therefore at this moment seize those important magazines, &c. overset their schemes, and break up their public credit, the favourable <sup>e</sup>consequences resulting from such success are too obvious to need explanation. And all this, my Lord, I have no doubt might have been effected if our reinforcement had arrived in time, and the enemy had no prospect of receiving any without our <sup>f</sup>either keeping or destroying Philadelphia; the latter of which is foreign

111 CLINTON TO CORNWALLIS, 19 June 1781, ANSWER [137] i. 88.

With Clinton's Manuscript Notes.

Sir Henry Clinton, K.B. to Earl Cornwallis, dated at New York, 19th of June, 1781.

My Lord, The intercepted letters, which I had the honour to transmit to your Lordship with my dispatch of the 8th inst.<sup>2</sup> will have informed you, that the French Admiral meant to escape with his fleet to Boston, from Rhode Island; (from whence it is probable they sailed the 15th inst. the wind being then fair;) and that it was proposed the French army should afterwards join such troops as Mr. Washington could assemble, for the purpose of making an attempt on this post.

1d Here should appear my letter of the 11th June as these are the letters recommending my plan to him and which the minister had no doubt but he would follow on receipt of them. see letter of 11. June to be found page 113.

2a It was industriously laid & propigated in England that these letters were placed on purpose for my intercepting, those who read them, particularly that of Washington to his Dentist, and Rochambeaus Cypher letter to Mrs de la Luserne & Chus-telux to the same, abusing Rochambeau, & his conduct to Washington, are sufficient proofs to the Contrary, & convince all who read them that their object under Idea I was very weak there was New York, but that De Grasse finding on his arrival that the N. York Pilots would not carry him over that Bar, and that York in Virginia was now become an Object from L. Cornwallis having fixed himself there, He advised that move in which Washington & Rochambeau acquiesced. It will be observed also that I had put Lord Cornwallis fully on his guard respecting the operations likely to effect him in his chosen station in York river.

'I have often given it as my opinion to your Lordship, that for such an object as this, they <sup>b</sup>certainly could raise numbers; but I very much doubt their being able to feed them. I am, however, persuaded, they will attempt the investiture of the place. I therefore heartily wish I was more in force, that I might be able to take advantage of any false movement they may make in forming it.<sup>o</sup>

Should your Lordship have any solid operation in the Chesapeak to propose, or have approved of the one I mentioned in my former letters, I shall not, as I have already told you, press you for the corps I wished to have sent me, at least for the present. But if, in the approaching inclement season, your Lordship should not think it prudent to undertake operations with the troops you have, (and you may easily conceive I cannot possibly spare more,) I cannot but wish for their sake, if I had no other motive, that you would send me as soon as possible what you can spare from a respectable defensive. And that your Lordship may better judge what I mean by a respectable defensive, it is necessary to inform you, that other intelligence, besides Monsieur Barras' letter, makes it highly probable, that Monsieur <sup>d</sup>de Grasse, will visit this coast in the hurricane season, and bring with him troops as well as ships. But, when he hears that your Lordship has taken possession of York river before him, I think it most likely he will come to Rhode Island;<sup>3</sup> and, in that case, that their first efforts will be in this quarter. I am, however, under no great apprehensions, as Sir George Rodney seems to have the same suspicions of 'De Grasse's intention that we have, and will of course follow him hither. For I think our situation cannot become very critical, unless the enemy by having the command of the Sound, should

What I said to your Lordship in my letter of the 8th inst. respecting the reinforcement from England, was only occasioned by a report prevailing here, that you had ordered them from Charles-town to the Chesapeak. But as it is now probable there is no real foundation for the report, it is unnecessary to trouble your Lordship again on the subject, as they will of course remain in South Carolina, should they arrive there. <sup>b</sup>In the hope that your Lordship will be able to spare me three thousand men, I have sent two thousand tons of transports from hence; and what is wanting may be made up from those in Chesapeak. The corps I named in my letter of the 11th,<sup>c</sup> will, I imagine, amount to nearly that number. But should your Lordship not be able to spare the whole, it is necessary to mention, that I expect the detachment of the seventeenth dragoons, as they <sup>d</sup>happened to be placed last in the list.<sup>e</sup> I likewise request, your Lordship will at the same time send me the twenty-four boats built by General Arnold, if you should have no particular call for them; as they will be useful here, and it is probable the ten, (which I understand are now building in the Chesapeak, will be sufficient for your Lordship's purposes. But as your Lordship will be the best judge of this, you will send them or not, as you please.<sup>4</sup>

I alarmed the Enemy for Fredericksburgh, & for the junction with General Wayne, who was then marching through Maryland. From what I could learn of the present state of Hunter's Iron Manufactory, it did not appear of so much importance as the stores on the other side of the Country, and it was impossible to prevent the junction between the Marquis & Wayne; I therefore took <sup>a</sup>the advantage of the Marquis's passing the <sup>b</sup>Rappahanock, and detached Lieu<sup>t</sup>-Colonels Simcoe & Tarleton to disturb the Assembly, then sitting at Charlotteville, and to destroy the Stores there, at Old Albermarle Court-House, & <sup>c</sup>the Point of Fork, moving with the Infantry to the mouth of <sup>d</sup>Bird Creek, near the Point of Fork, to receive <sup>e</sup>those detachments. Lieu<sup>t</sup> Colonel Tarleton took some Members of the Assembly at Charlotteville, & destroyed there, & on his return, 1000 stand of good Arms, some Clothing & other stores, & <sup>f</sup>between 4 <sup>g</sup>or 500 barrels of powder, without opposition. <sup>h</sup>Baron Steuben, who commanded about 800 twelvemonth's-men & Militia, retired with great precipitation from the Point of Fork. Lieu<sup>t</sup> Colonel Simcoe after using every exertion to attack his rear-Guard, destroyed there, & at <sup>i</sup>places adjacent, about 3300 stand of Arms, most of which unserviceable, but then under repair, some Salt, Harness, &c. & about 150 Barrels of Powder. <sup>k</sup>I then moved by Richmond, & arrived at Williamsburgh on the 25th Inst<sup>t</sup>, having in addition to the Articles already mentioned, destroyed on this expedition, at different places above 2000 Hogsheads of Tobacco, & a great number of Iron Guns, & brought off 4 brass 13 inch Mortars, 5 brass 8 inch Howitzers, & four long brass nine-pounders, all french. We found near Hanover Court-house, ten french brass 24 pounders, which we could not carry, & had not time or means to destroy further than spiking, & throwing five or six of them into the Pamunkey; and we found at Williamsburgh a

'The Morning after my arrival <sup>e</sup>here, I was honoured with your Excellency's Dispatches of the 11th & 15th inst<sup>t</sup>, delivered by Ensign Amiel; By them I find, that you think if an offensive Army could be spared, it would not be adviseable to employ it in this Province. <sup>f</sup>It is natural for every Officer to turn his thoughts particularly to the part of the War, in which he has been most employed; and as the security at<sup>2</sup> least of South Carolina,<sup>3,4</sup> if not the reduction of North Carolina, seemed to be generally expected from me, both in this Country & in England, I thought myself called upon, after the experiment I had made, had failed, to point out the only mode in my opinion of effecting it; and to declare, that untill Virginia was to a degree subjected, we could not reduce North Carolina, or have any <sup>h</sup>certain hold of the back Country of South Carolina<sup>5</sup>; The want of Navigation rendering it impossible to maintain a sufficient Army in either of <sup>i</sup>these Pro-

If we succeed to the Southward, I shall not be afraid of a failure in our Negotiations with the People of Vermont: for Washington must, in that Case, make still further Detachments from his Army on the Hudson's River, if not carry away the greatest Part of it; and as General Haldimand will have a Body of Troops ready to throw in among them, their Apprehensions of the resentment of the Congress must be removed, and they will see it to be their wisest & safest Course to declare for His Majesty; for I confess I rely more upon their finding it to be their Interest, than upon their Loyalty for their taking Part with us.

* It was very unfortunate that the Ordnance Store-ship which sailed with the Assurance was obliged to bear away for Antigua; but by accounts received from the Master by the Board of Ordnance there is good Ground to expect she is arrived at New York before this. The Warwick & Solebay which convoyed the Troops from Cork have three Thousand Stand of Arms on board, and I sent by two Armed Ships to Halifax, which sailed early in the Spring & are returned, two Thousand more, and a considerable Quantity of Gunpowder, thinking you could find means of bringing them from thence sooner than the Convoy could reach New York.

Brigadier General Dalrymple having mentioned to me your desire to have your present Staff of General Officers increased, I have had a Conversation with Lord Amherst upon the Subject; and His Lordship

I have the great Pleasure to acquaint you that His Majesty has been graciously pleased to confer the Rank of Lieutenant Colonel in the Army upon Lieutenant Colonel Tarleton, and to promote Captain Broderick to the Rank of Major.

Rear Admiral Digby being appointed to command His Majesty's Ships in North America, in room of Vice Admiral Arbuthnot, it has been judged proper that he should likewise succeed the Vice Admiral as joint Commissioner with you, for restoring Peace to the revolted Provinces. A new Commission has therefore been made out for you & him, and new Instructions for you both delivered to him, in consequence thereof; but they differ in nothing from those given to you and Vice Admiral Arbuthnot, except in the Appointment of the Council, which consists of one less, Governor Martin's Name being omitted, because of his being now in England.

Sir, <sup>c</sup>I received your private Letter of the 30th <sup>d</sup>of April last. <sup>e</sup>I never failed of doing Justice to your Zeal in the King's Service, and I am persuaded you have exerted your best Endeavours for bringing the Rebellion in America to a happy Conclusion. You will forgive me if my earnest Wishes for attaining so desirable an Object make me perpetually solicitous that no possible Opportunity may be lost of attempt-the Possessions, of the Rebels. The Progress already made in the Chesapeake, and the Advantages you may hope to derive from the different Detachments sent to Virginia, promise more towards bringing the Southern Colonies to Obedience, than any offensive Operation which has been undertaken in the course of the War, and it is highly satisfactory to me, that, upon this important Occasion, you had anticipated

quested, I had declared if he was not recalled I would resign the command to Lord Cornwallis; by the above extract, it appears they were apprehensive I should do so, & I do not seem to have had that Confidence in his Lordship or his plans that his friends had before insinuated they had.

11d I had often requested that the good old Admiral might be removed for reasons very strong indeed, it had been promised but Lord sandwich still objected, at last however when the Cabinet saw the fatal consequences that must attend Lord Cornwallis' plan & that mine was the only one—they give way to all my requisitions, & hope I shall receive this information before I can have resigned to L Cornwallis which they were it seems afraid with some reason I would do the instant I could with any propriety.

serve with the good old Admiral Arbuthnot. I had requested the removal of the Good Old Admiral Arbuthnot & respectfully added if that was not done I should resign to E. Cornwallis. His Majesty did in consequence order him to go to the West Indies or return to Europe. This letter clearly proves what His Majesty's Cabinet thought at that time of Lord Cornwallis & his Plan, in July whatever they might have done in May. Sir H. 2abcfgC Altho', as a Naval Station, I always preferred Hampton Road, yet from all the information I had received prior to Lord Cornwallis's Letter of the 20th. October, I had been induced to think well of York & Gloucester as a place of Arms, securing a Harbour for Line of Battle Ships. And the following Extract from His Lordship's Letter of the 26th May shews that he himself had the same opinion of it. "I shall now proceed to dislodge La Fayette from Richmond, and with my Light Troops to destroy any Magazines or Stores in the Neighbourhood, which may have been collected either for his use or for General Greene's Army. From thence I purpose to move to the Neck of Williamsburg which is represented as healthy and where some subsistence may be procured and keep myself unengaged from operations which might interfere with your Plan for the Campaign until I have the satisfaction of hearing from you. For with respect to his Lordship's Letter of the 30th. June (wherein he says "Upon viewing York I was clearly of opinion that it far exceeds our power Consistent with your plans to make safe defensive Posts there and at Gloucester, both of which would be necessary for the protection of Shipping) it does not give an opinion that the Post was unfit for the purposes proposed, but that he should not have Troops enough to occupy it, if he sent me the 3000 Men, which he understood my Letter of the 11th. June positively called for. <sup>g</sup>but as I left them with him he certainly had enough, and indeed afterwards offered me 1000 or 1200.

sary in every respect to cover our fleet, and give us entire command over the entrance of that bay. I therefore think proper to mention to your Lordship, that whatever my ideas <sup>a</sup>may have been of the force sufficient to maintain that station, and the corresponding one on the Gloucester side, your Lordship was left the sole judge of that sufficiency to the whole amount of the corps under your immediate orders in Virginia<sup>4</sup>; nor did I mean to draw a single man from you until you had provided for a respectable defensive, and <sup>b</sup>retained a small corps for desultory water expeditions; for my requisition was made after the receipt of your Lordship's letter of the 26th <sup>c</sup>of May<sup>5-6</sup>; from which I <sup>d</sup>apprehend that you had no immediate operation of your own to propose, and did not think it expedient<sup>7</sup> to adopt the one I had recommended to General Phillips.<sup>8</sup> But I confess I could not conceive you would require above four thousand in a station wherein General Arnold had represented to me (<sup>e</sup>upon report of Colonel Simcoe) that two thousand men would be amply sufficient; and being strongly impressed with the necessity of our holding a naval station for large ships as well as

My plans, my Lord, were to draw from Chesapeak, as well for the sake of their health, as for a necessary defensive in this important post, such troops as your Lordship could spare from a respectable defensive of York, Gloucester, or<sup>12</sup> such other station as was proper to cover line of battle ships, and <sup>c</sup>all the other services I had recommended ; but I could not possibly mean that your Lordship should, for this, give up the hold of a station so important for the purposes I designed, and which I think La Fayette will immediately seize and fortify the moment he hears you have repassed James-river ; for though I am to suppose the enemy will be as little

With regard to Portsmouth, your Lordship will have seen by my former letters and the papers in your possession, that when I sent General Leslie to the Chesapeak, I only wished for a station to cover our cruising frigates and other small ships; <sup>g</sup>that General officer thought proper to make choice of Portsmouth, and had, I doubt not, good reasons for so doing. But it has ever been my opinion that if a better could be found, especially for covering line of battle ships, it ought to have the preference; and I think, if Old Point Comfort will secure Hampton-Road, that is the station we ought to choose; for if Elizabeth-River is at all kept, a small post for about three hundred men at <sup>h</sup>Mill-Point, would in my opinion answer. But as to quitting the Chesapeak entirely, I cannot entertain a thought of such a measure, but shall most probably on the contrary send there, as soon as the season returns for acting in that climate, all the troops which can possibly be spared from the different posts under my command. I therefore flatter myself, that even although your Lordship ready & will proceed to Portsmouth to wait the Arrival of the Transports; I will give immediate Orders about the Artillery, Stores, &c.

The Transports now at Portsmouth are sufficient to carry the Light Infantry; I had prepared them to receive that Corps, & should have sent them to you in a few days, if your last Order had not arrived.<sup>a</sup> In your cyphered dispatch, the second Battalion of Light Infantry only is mentioned, but I conclude that to be a mistake; & shall keep both ready to embark. <sup>b</sup>I take for granted that General Robertson will come with the Transports to take the command of the Expedition; General Leslie is still here, but as it was not my intention to have sent him with the Troops to New-York, & as he will be the properest person to command<sup>c</sup>, in case you should approve of my returning<sup>1</sup> to Charles-town, I shall not send him on the Expedition unless it shall then appear to be your Excellency's desire, that he should accompany General Robertson.

<sup>d</sup>I must again take the liberty of calling your Excellency's serious attention to the question of the Utility of a defensive post in this Country, which cannot have the smallest influence on the War in Carolina,<sup>2</sup> & which only gives us some Acres of an unhealthy<sup>3</sup> swamp,<sup>4-5-6</sup> & is for ever liable to become a prey to a foreign Enemy, with a temporary supe-

The Boats & Naval Assistance having been sent to me by Captain Hudson, I marched on the 4th <sup>b</sup>from Williamsburgh, to a Camp which covered a Ford into the Island of James-Town. The Queen's Rangers passed the River that Evening; on the 5th, I sent over all the Wheel Carriages, & on the 6th the Bat-Horses, & baggage of every kind, intending to pass with the Army on the 7th. About noon on the 6th, information was brought <sup>c</sup>to me of the Approach of the Enemy, and about four in the Afternoon a large Body attacked our Out-posts. Concluding that the Enemy would not bring a considerable Force within our reach, unless they supposed that nothing was left but a rear-guard, I took every means to convince them of my Weakness, & suffered my picquets to be insulted & driven back; nothing, however, appeared near us, but Rifle Men & Militia till near Sun-set, when a Body of Continentals with Artillery began to form in the front of our Camp. I then put the Troops under Arms & ordered the Army to advance in two 7aA because His Lordship cannot force his Plan of removing the seat of war into the sickly Province of Virginia & at the worst season, He peevishly desires to return to S. Carolina, I rather think He begins to feel the Impropriety of his Conduct in coming into Virginia and the fatal consequences likely to follow, or perhaps having in Fact had no other object in coming into Virgia but to receive a command. He thought me inclined to resign the moment He found that could not be the case He wished to return to his Station at S. Carolina.

8aC there is not a doubt with me that if we had held those Stations, cruisers occasionally without and within the Chesapeake, and operation in Octre.

9aC once possessed of a Post at the entrance of the Chesapeake it ought never to have been given up. Hampton road was that post, as nearest the entrance Elisebeth river in winter. Your cruisers lay in either or in Lynhaven bay ready to start and guard the Chesapeake neck that all would have been soon over.

Lines. The attack was began by the first Line with great spirit; there being nothing but Militia opposed to the Light Infantry, The Action was soon over on the right, but Lieu<sup>t</sup> Colonel Dundas's Brigade consisting of the 43rd 76th & 80th Regiments, which formed the left Wing, meeting the Pensylvania Line, & a detachment of the Marquis de La Fayette's Continentals, with two six-pounders, a smart Action ensued for some minutes, when the Enemy gave way, & abandoned their Cannon. The Cavalry were perfectly ready to pursue, but the darkness of the Evening prevented my being able to make use of them.<sup>10</sup> I cannot sufficiently commend the spirit & good behaviour of the Officers & Soldiers of the whole Army; but the 76th & 80th Regiments, on whom the brunt of the Action fell; had an opportunity of distinguishing themselves particularly, & Lieu<sup>t</sup> Colonel Dundas's Conduct & Gallantry deserve the highest praise. The Force of the Enemy in the Field was about two thousand, & their loss, I believe, between two & three hundred, half an hour more of day-light would <sup>a</sup>probably have given us the greatest part of the Corps. <sup>b</sup>I have inclosed a List of our killed & wounded. We finished our passage yesterday, which has been an operation of great labour & difficulty, as the River is three miles wide at this place; I have great obligations to Captain Aplin & the Officers of the Navy & Seamen, for their great exertions & <sup>c</sup>attention on this occasion.<sup>d</sup>

I cannot be more explicit by this opportunity than to desire, that if you have not already passed the James river, you will continue on the Williamsburgh Neck,<sup>1</sup> until she arrives with my dispatches by Captain Stapleton. If you have passed,<sup>e</sup> and find it expedient to recover that station, you will <sup>f</sup>please to do it, and keep possession until you hear <sup>g</sup>further from me. your Lordship's letter of the 30th ultimo, and we are both clearly of opinion that it is absolutely necessary we should hold a station in Chesapeak for ships of the line, as well as frigates; and the Admiral seems to think that should the enemy possess themselves of Old Point Comfort, Elizabeth River 'would no longer be of any use to us as a station for the frigates,<sup>b</sup> therefore judges that Hampton-road is the fittest station for all ships,<sup>3</sup> in which your Lordship will see by the papers in your possession, I likewise agree with him. proper in that unhealthy climate. But as your Lordship seems to think that you can in no degree comply with my requisition for troops, and at the same time establish a post capable of giving protection to ships of war, and it is probable, from what you write me, that you may have repassed James-river and retired to Portsmouth; I beg leave to request that you will without loss of time<sup>9</sup> examine Old Point Comfort,<sup>10</sup> and fortify it<sup>11</sup>; detaining such troops as you may think necessary for that purpose, and garrisoning it afterwards. But if it should be your Lordship's opinion that Old Point Comfort cannot<sup>12</sup> be held without having possession of York, for in this case Gloucester may perhaps be not so material, and that the whole cannot be done with less than seven thousand men, you are at full liberty to detain all the troops now in <sup>b</sup>the Chesapeak, which I believe amount to somewhat more than that number: which very liberal concession will, I am persuaded, convince your Lordship of the high estimation in which I hold a naval station in Chesapeak, <sup>d</sup>especially when you consider that my whole force in this very extensive and important post, is not quite eleven thousand effectives; and how far I may be <sup>e</sup>justifiable in leaving it to so reduced a garrison, time will shew.

I am as much mortified as your Lordship can possibly be at the necessity there is at present for leaving you upon the defensive in Chesapeak; and your Lordship will do me the justice to observe that I have for some months <sup>f</sup>past been myself content with a starved defensive, from the desire I had to give your Lordship as large an army for offensive operations as I could. I need only say to your Lordship, that there is no place for the great ships during the freezing months on this side the Chesapeak, where the great ships will be in security, and at the same time capable of acting—and in my opinion they had better go to the West Indies than be laid up in Halifax during the winter. If the squadron is necessary to the operations of the army—Hampton road appears to be the place where they can be anchored with the greatest security,<sup>1</sup> and at the same time be capable of acting with <sup>a</sup>the most effect against any attempts of the enemy.—To this end, Old Point Comfort seems necessary to be occupied by us, as commanding the entrance to the road—and if York can be secured, it will give the command of the Lower or Elizabeth country, and deprive the rebels of the use of the two best settled rivers of the Chesapeak, and deter an enemy from entering the Chesapeak whilst we command the access to it—for we should have all his convoys and detachments exposed to our attempts.<sup>2,3</sup>

Sir Henry Clinton, K. B. to Earl Cornwallis, dated New-York, July 15, 1781.

My Lord, <sup>b</sup>Until I had the honour to receive your Lordship's letter of the 8th instant, I had flattered myself, that upon re-considering the general purport of our correspondence, and General Phillips's papers in your possession, you would at least have waited for a line from me in answer to your letter of the 30th ult. before you finally determined upon so serious and mortifying a move as the re-passing James river, and retiring with your army to Portsmouth. And I was the more induced to hope that this would have been the case, as we <sup>a</sup>both seemed to agree in our <sup>b</sup>opinion of the propriety of taking a healthy <sup>c</sup>station on the Neck, between York and James rivers, for the purpose of covering a proper harbour for our line-of-battle ships. And I am persuaded your Lordship will be sensible, that in all my letters I clearly leave you at full liberty to detain any part, or even the whole of the troops I solicited you to send me, should your Lordship have determined on any solid operation of your own in Virginia, or elsewhere ; or should you have adopted the one I had recommended in the Upper Chesapeak ; or even should you have judged their continuance with you necessary until the stations you might think proper to take were rendered <sup>d</sup>respectably defensive.<sup>e</sup>

Your letter of the 30th ult. in which your Lordship was pleased to intimate this intention, did not leave the Chesapeak before the 5th instant: and as soon as I consulted the Admiral at the Hook upon its contents, I lost no time in dispatching my answer to your Lordship, both by a ship of war and one of my runners ; but as I now find your Lordship has decided, I shall say no more upon the subject: and I sincerely congratulate you upon the success of your well concerted plan against the Marquis de la Fayette, hoping that amongst other good effects which may be expected from it, it will prevent his giving you disturbance in the execution of what I recommended to your Lordship in my letter of the 11th instant, a duplicate of which accompanies this. I likewise request your Lordship will be pleased to communicate to Lieutenant-colonels Dundas, Simcoe, and Tarleton (whom you have particularised, the first for his conduct and gallantry in the action of James-town, and the two others for their active services on your march through Virginia) and to all the other officers and soldiers under your command, the high sense I have of their spirit and good behaviour, for which I desire their acceptance of my thanks.

'As your Lordship is again pleased to 'recall my serious attention to the question of the utility of a defensive post in Virginia, which you say cannot have the smallest influence on the war in Carolina, and which only gives us some acres of an unhealthy swamp, I must in answer beg leave again to repeat to your Lordship, that it never was my intention to continue a post on Elizabeth river any longer than until the commencement of solid 'operation in the Chesapeak, nor to have there more troops than what might be capable of defending a small work on that river; and that all the general officers who have commanded in the Chesapeak have had my consent to change that station for one more healthy, if they judged it proper to do so. To which I will more-over add,<sup>d</sup> it ever has been, is, and ever will be, my firm and unalterable opinion, that it is of the first consequence to his Majesty's affairs on this continent, that we take possession of the Chesapeak, and that we do not afterwards relinquish it.<sup>1.2</sup> I beg leave also, my Lord, to dissent from the opinion you have given me of a defensive post in 'Chesapeak, and that desultory expeditions there may be undertaken from New-York with as much ease and more safety; for I cannot but suppose, that a defensive station in

I have already had the honour to give your Lordship. Nor do I recollect, that in any of my letters to your Lordship I have suggested an idea, that there was a probability of the enemy's having a naval superiority <sup>3.4.5.6</sup> in these seas for any length of time, much less for so long a one as two or three months. <sup>c</sup>But with respect to the unhealthiness of the station at Portsmouth, my letters to General Phillips on that subject, <sup>d</sup>(wherein I say, <sup>e</sup>'God forbid I should wish to bury the <sup>f</sup>elite of my army in Nansemond and Princess Anne<sup>g</sup>) will satisfy your Lordship that we are both of one opinion.<sup>h</sup>

With regard to your Lordship's returning to Charles-town,<sup>7.8</sup> for which you say you wait my approbation, though I allow your Lordship to be the best judge where your presence may be <sup>i</sup>most required, yet, as I cannot conceive that offensive operation will be carried on in Carolina for some months, I must beg leave to recommend it to you to remain in Chesapeak, at least until the stations I have proposed are occupied and established, and your Lordship favours me with your opinion of the number of men you can afterwards spare from their defence until the first week in October; about which time it is my

If in the last, I shall probably assume the direction of it myself; and I shall in that case be glad to have your Lordship's assistance: but if you should prefer returning to Carolina, I shall after that no longer restrain your Lordship from following your inclinations.

Now, my Lord, I have only to repeat, what I have already said in all my letters, that you are at full liberty to employ all the troops under your immediate command in <sup>a</sup>the Chesapeak, if you are of opinion they may be wanted for the defence of the stations you shall think proper to occupy, securing to us at<sup>10</sup> least a healthy one, from whence we may start at the proper time for beginning operation, and for the carrying on in the interim such desultory water expeditions as you may think of any utility.<sup>11</sup> I should, indeed, have hoped, that even in the season for active operation, seven thousand men would have been quite sufficient, considering the force which the enemy can bring against you; in this, however, your Lordship seems to think <sup>b</sup>differently. <sup>c</sup>Should nothing,

With Clinton's Manuscript Note.

Earl Cornwallis to Sir Henry Clinton, K.B. dated Suffolk, 17th July, 1781.

Sir, 'I am glad to hear from Portsmouth that the expedition is almost ready to sail; and having given General Leslie full powers<sup>b</sup> relating to the equipment of it, I hope it will be to your satisfaction. I have detained six infantry boats and four horse boats for the service here, and have directed all the others to go, if they can be carried. The twenty-third Light Company has done duty for some time past with the Legion, which is not<sup>c</sup> yet returned from an excursion to the upper part of the country; I have, therefore, in place of the twenty-third, sent the Light Company of the eightieth.<sup>d</sup>

The enemy's army<sup>e</sup> having come so low down the country, and we having, by the destruction of their craft, rendered it difficult for them to pass James river below<sup>f</sup> Tuckahoe, and the militia of the upper<sup>g</sup> countries of this side of the river being with them, I thought it a good opportunity to endeavour to destroy the magazines between James river and the Dan that are destined for the use of their southern army. I accordingly detached Lieutenant-colonel Tarleton with the Legion cavalry, and something upwards of one hundred mounted infantry, on the 9th instant, from Cobham, with orders to call, among other places, at Prince Edward and Bedford court houses, where I was informed their principal military stores had been collected. This will be a fatiguing expedition; but I shall be able to give them rest upon their return, as I see little appearance of cavalry being much wanted in this quarter for some time to come. In the mean time I shall remain at, or near, this place<sup>h</sup> till he comes back, which I hope will be in a few days. I have detached Lieutenant-colonel Dundas with part of the eightieth, to destroy the shipping and stores at South

Colonel Gould has not received my order for sending two of the late-arrived regiments to New-York, the express vessel with my dispatches having been taken by a rebel privateer. And as it appears by your Excellency's dispatch to me of the 19th of June, that you approve of the three regiments remaining in South Carolina, I have notified this to Colonel Gould by the <sup>b</sup>Amphitrite, which retook the express vessel, and called here two days ago, in her way to Charles-town.<sup>c</sup>

The variety of fatiguing services for which pioneers are constantly wanted, obliged me to augment the detachment with this army to a company of fifty men, and I appointed Lieutenant Brown of that corps Captain; and Mr. Jackson, a North-Carolina refugee, Lieutenant. Mr. Brown is an old officer of pioneers, and in his own line a man of uncommon merit.

The officers of the guards having repeatedly represented the very superior merit of Mr. Rush, their surgeon, and his unwearied and skilful attention to their numerous sick and wounded, I think it right to mention him to your Excellency, as a man highly worthy of a mark of favour.

I received your Excellency's letter, with the inclosures relating to the transports intended to be sent home by the Agent and Lieutenant-colonel Balfour. The resolution of sending all had been adopted after I left South Carolina, in consequence of the Minister's Circular Letter, and which, if executed, I should, no doubt, have disapproved of, being entirely of opinion with your Excellency, that it is with you to decide whether serviceable transports can be

My Lord, As I am conscious that ever since I have had the charge of this arduous and important Command, I have never relaxed in the most zealous Exertions to employ the Troops entrusted to me to the best advantage for His Majesty's Interests, I cannot but be affected with some observations and expressions contained in Your Lordship's Letter Marked N<sup>o</sup> 81, and Secret One of the 2<sup>d</sup> of May, which <sup>b</sup>seem to insinuate that there was a possibility of my doing more than I have done; I therefore request Your Lordship will excuse my taking the liberty of troubling You with a very few words in answer to them—Not, My Lord, in my own Vindication, for I cannot think my Conduct requires any, but to set Your Lordship right in some matters in which I fear you have been misinformed.<sup>c</sup>

Lord Cornwallis, moreover, tells Your Lordship that he had 7000 Men opposed to him at the Battle of Camden, and 10000 at that of Guildford, at which period also there were before General Arnold’s Lines in Virginia above 4000, Commanded by all the Virginia Generals.—To these I may with great propriety add the Militia of the States in the neighbourhood of this Post, which General Arnold told me last Year, may when wanted be assembled in a very few days to the amount of from 4000 to 8000, and which we have found to be nearly as well appointed, and as formidable as the best of their Continentals. allowing, therefore, this Estimate to be just, which, My Lord, I really believe it is, instead of the Superiority You suppose on our side, You will find a very great Inferiority even at the period I stated, and which I may venture to assert has since increased above 6000 Men; and, as they now take even three Months Men, will continue to do so every hour while they have a prospect of French Reinforcements, and the Attack of New York is held up to them as an Event certainly to take place: And if Your Lordship will be pleased likewise to cast Your Eye on the Effective number of my Regulars, the posts I have to defend, and the extensive Country I have to reduce, together with the different Armies of Washington, La Fayette, and Greene, supported by the Cooperation of a French Fleet, and at least 6000 French Troops, all which are at this Moment acting against the different Stations of my Army, I flatter myself You will find that so far from the Rebel Force being so very Contemptible in all parts, and our Superiority so vast every where, that I have no small claim to applause for obliging the Enemy to act with the utmost caution, and regard me with a very Jealous and Respectful Eye in this Quarter, notwithstanding the smallness of my Force, in consequence of the very liberal detachments I have sent to Carolina & the Chesapeake. I have, moreover, the Testimony even of the Enemy to prove that I have not been inactive, as Your Lordship will perceive by turning to the intercepted Letters of M<sup>r</sup> Washington, in one of which he complains, “That we are now suffering

I am happy to find that I have the honor to be the advantages which may be expected from a friends in it were more numerous, and were heartily inclined to assist us, not only in conquering but I can say little more to Your Lordship’s sanguine hopes of the Speedy Reduction of the Southern Provinces than to lament that the present State of the War there does not altogether promise so flattering an Event. Many untoward Incidents, of which Your Lordship was not apprised, have thrown us too far back to be able to recover very soon even what we have lately lost there ; for if, (as I have often before suggested) the good will of the Inhabitants is absolutely requisite to retain a Country after we have conquered it, I fear it will be some time before we can recover the confidence of those in Carolina as their past sufferings will of course make them Cautious of forwarding the King's Interests before there is the strongest certainty of his Army being in a Condition to support them. I shall therefore most cordially join with Your Lordship in Condemning the bad policy of taking possession of places at one time and abandoning them at another, and in the Opinion that the War should be conducted, upon a permanent and settled plan of Conquest, by securing and preserving what has been recovered. But if these Maxims have on any occasion been deviated from in the past progress of the War, I must, in justice to myself, declare that it has never been warranted by my Orders, except in the Case of Rhode Island— This, I doubt not, will appear from those I gave to General Leslie, and the other General Officers whom I sent on Expeditions to the Chesapeak. And if Lord Cornwallis made a Desultory Move into North Carolina, and without a force sufficient to protect, or provisions to support them, invited, by Proclamation, the Loyalists to join him, and afterwards found it necessary to quit the friendly Districts of that Province before he could have time to give them a fair trial; I am persuaded Your Lordship will acknowledge he did not act under my Instructions, nor were his Lordship's Retreat to Wilmington, and subsequent Move from thence to Virginia in consequence of my Orders; for as I foresaw all the unhappy consequences of them, I should certainly have endeavoured to have stopt him, could I have known his intentions in proper time.— But tho' his Lordship's Movements, which it must be confessed have been as rapid as Your Lordship expected, have not to my sincere concern, been successfully decisive, I am convinced he is, as I hope we all are, impressed with the absolute necessity of vigorous Exertions in the service of his Country at the present Crisis; and, if mine have not been equal to my inclinations, I have little doubt they will be found to be at least equal to my powers.

I shall now, My Lord, beg leave to conclude, with the strongest assurances, that no Man can be more fervently desirous than I am to see an honorable end put to this most burthensome War, and that no endeavours of mine (if I should remain in the Command) shall be wanting to execute in the fullest manner The King's pleasure and Commands, which Your Lordship has now done me the honor to Communicate to me: which however, I shall be apprehensive cannot be effected unless there should be an addition to this Army; for Your Lordship will observe that Lord Cornwallis seems of Opinion that 7000 Men are not sufficient for the Service of the Chesapeak—and it is firmly mine that this Post should never be left with less than 12000. It is also possible that circumstances may make it improper to draw any Troops from Carolina; in which case I see no way of adding to the Chesapeak Army.—Of the 10,000, Men I solicited, and which General Arnold, as well as myself, counted upon when he gave Your Lordship those sanguine <sup>a</sup> hopes of a speedy conclusion to the War, only 4000 were even promised, and no portion of them except a few Recruits has yet Joined this part of the Army—Your Lordship's last Letters however, give me hopes that Three British Battalions, and 2600 German Troops may be immediately expected. If all these arrive, I shall then be able at a proper Season to Reinforce the Chesapeak Corps very considerably, and if a Reinforcement does not likewise come to the French Armament already here, such Operations may be carried on as may perhaps produce some advantages in the course of the Winter; But if our Reinforcement does not come, and the French should receive theirs, I think we shall have every thing to apprehend.<sup>b</sup>

*Sir, I find by your Excellency's letter of the 29th of May, delivered to me by Lieutenant-colonel M'Pherson on the 12th of this month,<sup>2</sup> that neither my march from Cross Creek to Wilmington, or from thence to Petersburg, meets with your Approbation. The move from Cross Creek to Wilmington was absolutely necessary, such was the situation and distress of the troops; and so great were the sufferings of the sick and wounded, that I had no option left. I tried many methods of informing Lord Rawdon of it; they all failed. I had left such a force in South Carolina, that, if Lord Rawdon could have had timely notice of the probability of General Greene's moving towards that province, and could have called in Lieutenant colonel Watson, General Greene would not have ventured to have placed himself before Camden.<sup>3</sup>

On the 22<sup>d</sup> of April I received a dispatch from Lieutenant-colonel Balfour, inclosing a letter from Lord Rawdon of the 13th, apprizing him of General Greene's approach, and saying that he could not hope to get Lieutenant-colonel Watson to him in time; and that he had then at least fifteen days provision. The fate of the garrison of Camden must have been decided before I could have hoped to have reached the Pedee or Waggamaw.<sup>4</sup> I had then no certainty of being able to get vessels in time to assist in passing the latter. From Wilmington to the Waggamaw is a perfect desert; and indeed in all that low country it is impossible to subsist in the summer, for want of water to turn the mills.<sup>5-6</sup>

Had a misfortune happened to Lord Rawdon's corps, I knew that the whole country East of Santee and Pedee would be in arms against us. I therefore did not think that I could, with thirteen hundred infantry and two hundred cavalry, undertake such a march, and the passage of two such rivers as the Pedee and Santee, without exposing the corps under my command to the utmost hazard of disgrace and ruin.<sup>7</sup> If, on the contrary, Lord Rawdon should have effected his retreat from Camden, and have assembled his whole force West of Santee, I was convinced that General Greene could do no effectual mischief but over-running the back country, which I should arrive too late to prevent, and which different corps of the rebels have constantly done ever since the first battle of Camden,<sup>8</sup> exclusive only of the ground on which our forts were constructed. I should therefore have carried back my army to South Carolina, giving every advantage to General Greene's movement, in order to commence a defensive war on the frontiers of that province,<sup>9</sup> which I have long since declared, *both to yourself and to the minister, to be in my opinion impracticable, against the rebellious inhabitants supported by a continental army. In the measure which I pursued, I neither risked my own corps or Major-general Phillips's,<sup>10</sup> being determined to return to Wilmington from Halifax, unless I heard from that officer that I could join him with safety; the great quantity of provisions, which I was credibly informed I should find at Halifax,<sup>11</sup> would easily enable me to return. Major-general Phillips could be in no danger, as I had written expressly to him to take no measures in consequence of my letter that could expose his corps to hazard;<sup>12-13</sup> and indeed I cannot help observing, that in this instance your Excellency seems to think the force of Virginia more formidable than you have done on some other occasions. herewith any authentick Account of Lord Rawdon's Proceedings subsequent to the Date of his Letter to me which I sent to Your Lordship in that Dispatch. But Lord Cornwallis informs me that he has seen a Charlestown Paper which mentions the raising the Siege of Ninety Six; and Reports in the Country say, General Greene had retreated towards Broad River.

The Operations of the Army in the Chesapeak your Lordship will be informed of by the Copies & Extracts of Lord Cornwallis's late Letters to me, which I have the Honor to inclose; together with mine to his Lordship and General Leslie. By these Your Lordship will perceive that I am under some Apprehensions, my Letters by the Solebay Frigate have not arrived in Time to stop the sailing of the Troops from Portsmouth, tho' they were sent from here the 11th and the Embarkation could not be ready before the 20th. And I am the more uneasy thereat, as the Admiral having sailed from hence with the large Ships of his Squadron the 22<sup>d</sup> Instant (upon some private Information he had received by the Hornet Sloop of War from England, without having had Time to communicate with me) deprives me of the Opportunity of consulting with him what may be best to be done on this Occasion.

Lord Cornwallis having agreed upon a Cartel for the Exchange of Prisoners of War with the Rebel General Greene, I have the Honor to inclose a Copy thereof for Your Lordships Information. And as I am told that the Rebel Prisoners are arrived in the Chesapeak from Charles Town, I expect the Exchange of the Prisoners taken from the Southern Army will be immediately effected.

As Lieutenant General Campbell's Aid de Camp, Lieutenant Gordon of the 16th Regiment of Foot, goes to England in this Packet, and will have the Honor to deliver to your Lordship from that General Officer a full Account of the Surrender of Pensacola

& the British Possessions in West Florida to the Arms of Spain; I shall have no Occasion to trouble You any further on that Subject, than to lament that I had it not in my Power to prevent this Misfortune, and that Sir Peter Parker & General Dalling did not find it expedient to succor that Post. It will also be unnecessary for me to say any thing in Praise of the very gallant Defence made by General Campbell with his small Garrison against so formidable an Armament; as I should thereby only anticipate the just Sense I am persuaded Your Lordship will entertain of it, when you read his Dispatches. It may be, however, proper to observe, that I think Major of Brigade Campbell has been very improperly detained as a Hostage by the Spanish General Galvez. And as General Campbell has mentioned to me, that he is exceedingly anxious to be joined by that Officer, without whose Assistance he cannot adjust his Papers and Accounts, being Secretary to himself and Paymaster to the Troops in West Florida; I beg leave to request Your Lordship will endeavour to procure his Releasement and Exchange as soon as possible. I have likewise to request the same favor for the Garrison of Pensacola, and in particular for General Campbell, who appears desirous of continuing to serve in this Country whilst the War lasts: and as I have so often experienced his zealous and very able Assistance, I shall of course be happy to have him remain on this Staff.

Having lately received a Letter from General Haldimand respecting his Negotiations with the People of Vermont, I have the Honor to inclose an Extract of it for your Lordship's Information.

'No Man, my Lord, laments more sincerely than I do the long Continuance of the Westerly Winds, which prevented the sailing of the Warwicks Convoy,'<sup>b</sup> as many of the Losses we sustained in Carolina may be imputed in Part to the Lateness of its Arrival there. 'And I hope your Lordship will<sup>d</sup> excuse me for again repeating, that, had the Reinforcement sailed as early as was promised, and the three Battalions not been detained in the West Indies, I should perhaps by this Time have made such Movements as would have obliged the Enemy to be apprehensive<sup>a</sup> at least for the Safety of <sup>b</sup>their own Possessions, instead of meditating the Attack which they now threaten against this Post.<sup>c</sup> The Force they have assembled for this purpose are at present encamped between the Brunx & the North River in front of the White Plains, about sixteen Miles from the Lines of Kings-bridge. The Rebels I judge to be about 7000 Continentals, tho' they give themselves out for considerably more; the French 4000; and they expect very soon a large Reinforcement to the latter from the West Indies. Very early on the 22<sup>d</sup> Inst<sup>t</sup> their whole Line moved towards our Works, and having drove in the Refugees, appeared upon the Heights bordering on the Spiten-devil and Haerlem Creeks, masking the only Bridge there is on them; where they remained that day & the next, and fell back to their present Position the Night of the 23<sup>d</sup>. Their Design appears to have been to reconnoitre our Lines.

Although Rear Admiral Graves's very sudden Departure was, no doubt, caused by some important Object which he had in View; yet, as I am unacquainted with the Cause, I cannot but lament that it was necessary for him to go without consulting me; especially as we had in Contemplation at the Time certain Operations both defensive & offensive. I shall, however, be under no Apprehensions from any <sup>d</sup>Attempt of the Enemy in his Absence, unless Le Grasse should arrive here with a French Reinforcement from the West Indies. In which Case the Absence of our Fleet might certainly render our Situation critical in the very reduced State of this Garrison. But as the Admiral is fully informed of my Sentiments on this Subject, and I flatter myself agrees with me in them, I am persuaded he would not have made this sudden Move without forming some previous Arrangement with me in Consequence, if he had not been impelled by some very important Occasion, and of Course determined to rejoin us very soon. Which, however I hope will be before it is probable Le Grasse can arrive on the Coast, which we may expect to be in ten days or a fortnight at farthest, if he is to come at all.

With Clinton's Manuscript Note.

Sir Henry Clinton, K. B. to Earl Cornwallis, dated New-York, July 26, 1781.

My Lord, I had the honour to receive your Lordship's letter, of the 17th instant, by Major Damer, who arrived here the 22d, and as it is possible that my dispatches of the 11th may not have reached you before the troops under General Leslie sailed from Portsmouth, and lest any change of arrangement your Lordship may have judged proper in consequence may be thereby prevented, I immediately dispatched a runner to cruize for the fleet off the Delaware, with orders for the troops, in that case, to return immediately to you, and wait your further commands; but if you had received my letters by Captain Stapleton before they sailed, and had, notwithstanding, directed them to proceed according to their original destination, they are ordered to come to the Hook to receive mine.

What I said to your Lordship in my letter of the 19th instant, respecting the continuance of the three European regiments in Carolina, was only on a supposition that your Lordship thought they would be wanted there; but as that appears not to be the case, from your having ordered two of them to join me, if you should still be of opinion, that they can be spared during the inactive summer months, I hope your Lordship will think proper to renew your order for their coming here, as I shall probably want them, as well as the troops you may be able to spare me from the Chesapeak, for such offensive or defensive operations as may offer in this quarter, until the season will admit of their acting in yours,<sup>1</sup> where I propose collecting, in the beginning of October, all the force which can be spared from the different posts under my command. But if your Lordship wishes that Brigadier General Gould should command in Carolina upon the departure of Lord Rawdon, I shall have no objection to his remaining behind for that purpose.

I have the honour to be, &c.

H. CLINTON.

<sup>b</sup>Sir, <sup>a</sup>I was honoured with your letter of the 12th of July, by the Solebay, in which you mention a desire of having a harbour secured in the Chesapeak for line of battle ships. 1a The Joint opinion of navy army & Engineer is perhaps sufficient authority to suspend the orders of the Admiral & General tho framed on their own knowledge of the local but whether LC acted in strict obedience to the spirit of their orders in placing the naval Station in York River is for his Lordship to reconsider & unless by such removal he was certain of giving effectual protection to the Fleet he was highly blamable that he could not give such protection in York River has been proved, & that he might have done it in James River & at old Pt Comfort I have not nor Ever had a doubt.

2c He also His Lordship admits that as it seem'd to be a risk to occupy a naval station as he thought that ordered would not answer the purpose according to the spirit of my letter He takes York & Gloucester & removes the station from James to York river. If he thought that would not answer the purpose He should have said so.

I am free to own that having represented the danger of operation in Virginia without a Fleet to cover it, having been promised that Fleet by minister & Lord Rodney had his Lordship Cornwallis disapproving of that Place of arms which I had ordered in the James (so convinced was I of the necessity of such Place of arms till the Fleet arrived, that if his Lordship instead of saying or implying that York & Gloucester in York River would answer the purpose, had said tho the best they could find they were not safe I should have said my good Lord you came into Virginia contrary to my orders, and at a time you might have known if C. Balfour did his duty that I was in doubt of our having a superiority at sea so necessary to cover operations there, that I had however repeatedly represented the danger of such operation without a Fleet that I had been promised one & expected it that therefore you should take the best you could but if you judged yourself in danger you might retire with your moving army to the place from whence you came contrary to my orders) but that that must be avoided as long as possible as in that case sacrifice must be made.

3b does not this imply that York & Gloucester will answer the purpose, in the upper Chesapeak; and in the dispatch of the 15th, taking for granted that I <sup>a</sup>have not engaged in those operations, you require <sup>b</sup>that the embarkation of those troops may begin with the greatest dispatch. <sup>c</sup>After a full<sup>9</sup>.<sup>10</sup> compliance with this requisition, the force left under my command would have been about two thousand<sup>d</sup> four hundred rank and file, fit for duty, as will appear by the returns, which in a post adapted to that number, I hoped would be sufficient for a defensive and desultory water expeditions. You mention Williamsburgh and York in your letter of the 11th, as defensive stations, but only as being supposed healthy, without deciding on their safety. Williamsburgh having no harbour, and requiring an army to occupy the position, would not have suited us. I saw that it would require a great deal of time and labour to fortify York and Gloucester,<sup>11</sup> both of which are necessary to secure a harbour for vessels of any burthen,<sup>12</sup> and to effect it assistance would have been wanted from some of the troops then under embarkation orders, which, when New-York was in danger, I did not think myself at liberty to detain for any other purpose than operations in the upper Chesapeak; and supposing both places fortified, I thought they would have been dangerous defensive posts,<sup>13</sup> either of them being easily accessible to the whole force of this province, and from their situation they would not have commanded an acre of country. I shall, in obedience to the spirit of your Excellency's orders, take measures with as much dispatch as possible, to seize and fortify York and Gloucester, being the only harbour in which we can hope to be able to give effectual protection to line of battle ships. I shall likewise use all the expedition in my power to evacuate Portsmouth and the posts belonging to it, but until that is accomplished it will be impossible for me to spare troops. For York and Gloucester, from their situation, command no country; and a superiority in the field will not only be necessary to enable us to draw forage and other supplies from the country, but likewise to carry on our works without interruption.<sup>20</sup>

 Lordship's letters of the 24th and 27th ultimo, by Captain Stapleton<sup>2</sup>; and it gives me no small concern to observe by the tenor of them, that you are displeased with the opinions I took the liberty of giving in my letter of the 29th <sup>4</sup>May, respecting the probable consequences of your retreat from Cross Creek to Wilmington, and march from thence to Petersburg; and with what I said to your Lordship in my letters of the 8th and 11th of last month, on your design of abandoning the Williamsburg Neck, and retiring with your army to Portsmouth. Therefore, as it was not my intention to give offence, and

is extremely my wish to be properly understood by your Lordship, I request your attention for a few moments to the following elucidation of my sentiments on both those subjects.

The high opinion I entertained of your Lordship's military talents, and the respect I had for your situation as second to myself, induced me, from the moment you took charge of a separate command, to leave you at full liberty to act in it as you judged best for the King's service. And I am persuaded your Lordship is not insensible that I constantly pursued this line of conduct towards you during all your operations in the Carolinas; aiming at no other merit than that of diligently attending to your wants and supplying them;—whilst I was content to remain here myself, upon the very confined defensive, to which I was reduced, by the large detachments I had sent to the southward in support of your progress.<sup>3</sup>

Although your Lordship was, as you have observed subjected by this means to a certain degree of anxiety and responsibility; it does not appear that I was exonerated of my share of them. I could not, therefore, but be personally and anxiously interested in your successes and disappointments. And, though I have a respect for your Lordship's judgment, and am apt to doubt my own when it differs from it; yet it is certainly a duty I owe to my station as Commander in Chief, to express my dissent from any measure your Lordship adopts, when I apprehend that the consequences may be prejudicial. This, my Lord, being the case with respect to the 'move taken notice of in my letter of the 29th <sup>a</sup>May (and I most sincerely wish experience had convinced me I was mistaken) I immediately communicated to your Lordship my sentiments of the event, and how I thought it might have been obviated. In these it seems I am not so fortunate<sup>b</sup> to have your concurrence. But I must confess they are not<sup>c</sup> the least altered by your Lordship's arguments; being still of opinion, that, under the circumstances in which you describe your troops to be, you could have fallen back from Crosscreek to the Pedee, with much greater ease and safety, than you could have marched double the distance to Wilmington, through a country which you report to be entirely hostile:<sup>d</sup> and I should suppose Lord Rawdon might have moved to the Pedee without interruption to join you, with every refreshment your army wanted; as there does not appear, to have been at that time, an enemy between that river and Camden; and before you reached the Pedee, the country would probably have <sup>e</sup>been so opened, that your orders for that purpose might have <sup>f</sup>got to his Lordship with as much expedition and safety, as your note did <sup>g</sup>from Guildford <sup>h</sup>after the battle.<sup>h5</sup>

And with respect to your Lordship's subsequent move, I hope you will pardon me if I continue to dissent from the policy of the measure, tho' you happily surmounted the danger of it; as I fear the advantages resulting from your junction with the Chesapeak army will not compensate the losses which immediately followed your quitting Carolina, —notwithstanding General Greene's wishes to the contrary; which, I apprehend, meant nothing more than a gasconade, to boast the success he expected from a second action with your Lordship's army, in case it had directed its steps towards him instead of Virginia.

<sup>4a</sup>C failing in North Carolina he promised to secure South Carolina. out I should have told his lordship what I say tho in stil Moderate terms in my Narrative and observation on his reply to

I hope your Lordship will likewise excuse me for expressing the uneasiness I feel at the observation you make respecting my opinion of the Virginia force; because it seems to convey an insinuation, which I am not conscious of deserving. And I trust, that as I know myself to be incapable of wresting opinions to serve particular purposes, it will appear, that what I have said at different periods, on that or any other subject, has been perfectly consonant and candidly what I thought. I beg leave, therefore, to contrast with each other what I have said, in this and my other letters, on the force of Virginia; and I request your Lordship will be pleased to point out the impropriety which gave rise to that observation.

"In the letter your Lordship quotes, I say, "I should not have thought even the one under Major-general Phillips in safety, at Petersburg, at least for so long a time." In the one of June 8th, "Your Lordship will see by La Fayette's letter, that you have little more opposed to you than his corps, and an unarmed militia." And in that of June 11th,

And your Lordship may possibly have opposed to you from 1500 to 2000 Continentals, and (as La Fayette observes) a small body of ill armed peasantry, full as spiritless as the militia of the Southern Provinces, and without any service." <sup>c</sup>At the period alluded to in the first letter, General Phillips was at Petersburg with only 2000 men, uncovered by works. was opposed to him with his own corps, <sup>d</sup>Steuben, Muhlenberg, &c. and all the militia of the province, and expected to be soon joined by Wayne with the Pennsylvania line. I therefore certainly had cause to be apprehensive for General Phillips's corps, in case Greene had, on hearing of your Lordship's move from Wilmington, fallen back, and calling La Fayette to him, placed himself with their united force between your 'Lordship's and the Petersburg army, ready to strike at either, as 'it suited his purpose. But when the other letters were written, my opinion of the Virginia force was formed from the Rebel letters just intercepted, which fully described the state of their arms and their numbers. I therefore cannot discover, that they shew I thought at different periods more or less favourably of it, but as I was warranted to do by matter of fact, and the intelligence I received.

To give a full and satisfactory answer to your Lordship's letter of the 27th July, will perhaps take up more time than you or I can well spare. But, as your Lordship appears to be greatly affected by the contents of my letters of the 8th and 11th ultimo, I think it a duty I owe to your feelings and my own, to say something in explanation of them. I must therefore beg your Lordship's patience, while I state the substance of my correspondence with General Phillips and yourself, concerning the stations to be held, and operations to be carried on in Chesapeak, &c. which, I presume, will at least prove, that I spared no pains to explain my desires to your Lordship, though I have, perhaps, unhappily failed in making them understood.

My instructions to General Phillips, as quoted by your Lordship, gave him a power to take possession of York Town, or Old Point Comfort, as a station for large ships, if the Admiral should disapprove of Portsmouth, and require one. In my letters to that General Officer, of '24th of March and 11th of April, I desired his opinion 'respecting the post 'of Portsmouth, and such others as he proposed to establish on James River; with their importance considered, either as assisting your Lordship's operations, or connected with those of the navy': and, after having received that opinion, I told him, "that Portsmouth was by no means my choice ;<sup>a</sup> and left him at liberty to change it if he saw proper. And the substance of the conversations with him, as extracted by your Lordship, go more fully into the advantage of a naval station, pointing particularly to the one at York—being led to the consideration of its utility by the French having, two winters ago, sheltered their ships under works thrown up there. And, as I have already mentioned to your Lordship, General Arnold has since told me, that from the description given him of it by Lieutenant-colonel Simcoe, he judged 2000 men would be ample for its defence.

From hence, my Lord, I presume it will appear, that I very early entertained thoughts of a station in Chesapeak for large ships<sup>b</sup>; and I referred your Lordship, in my letter of <sup>b</sup>the 29th<sup>c</sup> May, to my correspondence, &c. with General Phillips, in your possession, for my ideas on that and other operations which I had in view—leaving you at liberty, however, to follow them or your own, as you judged best for the King's service. And I of course supposed, that your Lordship would set about establishing yourself there immediately on your re-

And in doing this, as I was totally in the dark with respect to what was then doing in the Chesapeak, I endeavoured, as much as lay in my power, to avoid all possibility of interrupting the moves you might be engaged in, or any object you might have in view—as will, I doubt not, be manifest from the following extracts from my letters to your Lordship, which I beg leave to submit once more to your consideration.

June 11th.—“I shall of course approve of any alterations your Lordship may think proper to make with respect to the stations I proposed taking in York or James Rivers, <sup>e</sup>&c.”—“Thus circumstanced, I am persuaded your Lordship will be of opinion, that the sooner I concentrate my force, the better. Therefore, (unless your Lordship, <sup>f</sup>after the receipt of my letters of the 29th May and 8th inst. should incline to agree with me in opinion, and judge it right to adopt my ideas <sup>g</sup>respecting the move to Baltimore, or the Delaware Neck;) I beg leave to recommend it to you, as soon as you have finished the active operations you may be now engaged in, <sup>h</sup>to take a defensive station in any healthy situation you chuse (be it at Williamsburg or York Town;) and I would wish in that case, <sup>i</sup>”k (that is, after you have secured such a station) <sup>l</sup>“that after <sup>m</sup>reserving to yourself such troops as you<sup>n</sup> judge necessary for <sup>o</sup>an <sup>p</sup>ample defensive, and desultory movements by water, &c., the following corps may be sent <sup>q</sup>me, <sup>r</sup>in<sup>10.11</sup> succession as you can spare them.

June 15th. “I delay not a moment to dispatch a runner with a duplicate of <sup>s</sup>my <sup>t</sup>letter of the 11th instant; and as I am led to suppose from your Lordship's letter of the 26th ultimo, that you may not think it expedient to adopt the operations I had recommended in the Upper Chesapeake, and will by

I shall likewise in proper time solicit the Admiral to send some more transports to the Chesapeak; in which your Lordship will please to send hither the remaining troops you judge 'can be spared from the 'defence of the posts you may occupy; as I do not think it adviseable to leave more troops in that unhealthy climate at this season of the year, than what are absolutely wanted <sup>h</sup>for a <sup>i</sup>defensive and desultory water <sup>k</sup>excursion."

June 19. "I am, however, persuaded they will attempt the investiture of 'the place; I therefore heartily wish I was more in force, <sup>m</sup>that I might be able to take advantage of any false movements they may make in forming it."<sup>n</sup> Should your Lordship have any solid 'operations to propose, or have approved of the one <sup>o</sup>mentioned in my former letters, <sup>q</sup>I shall not, as I have already told you, 'press you for the corps I wished to have sent me, <sup>s</sup>at least for the present. (which in other words certainly means <sup>a</sup>your defensive is required to be more particularly <sup>b</sup>respectable, as <sup>c</sup>De Grasse is expected to come soon with a considerable armament to the Chesapeake, where he will probably seize a station for his large ships in York-river: but as it appears to be your Lordship's intention to take possession of that post, I think he will, upon hearing you have done so, relinquish the design, and join the force assembling against this place.) <sup>d</sup>“ In the hope that your Lordship will be able to spare me three thousand men, I have sent two thousand <sup>e</sup>tons of transports, <sup>f</sup>‘&c.’” But should your Lordship not be able <sup>g</sup>to spare the whole, &c.”

These letters, my Lord, are each a link of the same chain, and, collectively or separately, were intended to speak the same language. The simple and obvious meaning of which I humbly presume to be this.<sup>h</sup>

<sup>i</sup>I find your Lordship does not think it expedient to undertake the operations I proposed,<sup>13</sup> and you have none of your own in contemplation; and it being probable you have made your arrangements for changing the post of Portsmouth, which you dislike, and have finished your defensive on the Williamsburg Neck, which we both approve of; I request <sup>k</sup>that, of the seven thousand men, which (as far as I can judge without having lately received any returns) you have, you will reserve as many as you want for the most ample defensive, and desultory water expeditions; and then send me the rest according to the inclosed <sup>l</sup>lists in succession as you can spare them.<sup>m</sup>

It is true, indeed, that several of these letters were not received by your Lordship until some time after you received those of the 11th and 15th, owing to the <sup>n</sup>unexpected tedious voyage of the Charon that carried them (and you must be sensible that it would have

After this very candid and ample explanation, my Lord, I have only to assure you, that it was not my intention to pass the slightest censure on your Lordship's conduct, much less an unmerited or severe one. We are both amenable to the censure of a much higher tribunal, should either of us unhappily commit errors that deserve it: nor had I the smallest right to doubt your Lordship's readiness to comply with my desires, if you had understood them. The dispatch with which you prepared to execute what you thought my wish, and the alacrity you afterwards shewed, together with the ample manner in which you equipped the expedition I ordered, convince me you are inclined to do so. I had therefore only to lament, 'that your Lordship had mistaken my intentions, and to endeavour to obviate the inconvenience as speedily as possible. This perhaps, was done in more positive language than I had been accustomed to use to your Lordship; but I had no other object in view than to make myself clearly understood, which I am happy to find has been the case, and that my messenger was in time to prevent the consequences I apprehended.

two Letters from Lieutenant Colonel Balfour ; which confirm the Information, I had given you by that Opportunity, of the raising the Siege of Ninety Six, and detail the Proceedings of Lord Rawdon, and the other Transactions in South Carolina, Since I last heard from that Province. I have therefore the Honor to inclose Copies of them for your Lordship's Information.

I have the Honor to acquaint Your Lordship that my Dispatches to the Chesapeak by His Majesty's Ship Solebay arrived there in Time to stop the sailing of the Expedition. And Lord Cornwallis informs me, in his Letter of the 27th Ultimo (a Copy of which with my Answer is inclosed), that he shall immediately lay Hold of the Heights of York & Gloucester, and evacuate Portsmouth. But his Lordship further says that, as an Army will be necessary to cover those Operations, he cannot send me any Part of the Troops now with him until they are accomplished.

<sup>a</sup>I am entirely of your Lordship's Sentiments with Respect to Lord Cornwallis's having done as much in North Carolina as could have been effected with his<sup>1</sup> force.<sup>2-3</sup> But I have to lament the Causes which reduced it so low in Number, and that his Lordship was induced to persist in his Plan, after it became obvious that he was<sup>b</sup> unable to establish himself there, and support & arm the Loyalists, which were the Objects of his March into the Heart of that Province,<sup>4</sup> and he could not therefore give the Experiment a fair and solid Tryal.

With Clinton's Manuscript Note.

Sir Henry Clinton, K. B. to Earl Cornwallis, dated New-York, August 11, 1781. [In Cypher.]

[Received August 16, 1781.]

My Lord, I am honoured with your Lordship's dispatches of the 24th and 27th ultimo, which were delivered to me by Captain Stapleton on the 1st instant, which I shall defer answering to a safer opportunity.

I have the pleasure to inform you, that the fleet from Bremer-lehe is this day arrived with two thousand five hundred German recruits.

I hope before this meets your Lordship you will so far have established yourself on the Williamsburg Neck, as to have been able to embark the troops you can spare me for operation here—In which case I have no doubt Captain Hudson will have given every assistance to forward them to us as soon as possible. And if they are not already sailed, I beg that the Queen's Rangers may be the second corps you send me; and that your Lordship will please to recollect my wish to have such a proportion of General Arnold's boats,<sup>1</sup> and artillery men and stores as you can spare. And as you have three engineers, I beg that Lieutenant Sutherland may be sent to this place, as also Captain Fage of the artillery. The French and rebels shewed themselves the other day in front of our lines to the amount of eleven thousand.

A man goes from hence through the country to your Lordship with a proposal to liberate the Convention troops—for which he says he will only want a frigate and some transports to receive them.—Lest any accident should happen to the runner that carries this, a duplicate of it is sent by him in cypher.

H. C.

<sup>1c</sup> had not his Lordship in a fit of economy stopt the building of these boats he might have saved his army even at the last hour. the same illjudged illtimed economy induced him to send a great quantity of intrenching tools to N. York, & afterwards he complains of the want of them

I did not imagine that my Letter of the 26th of July, would have given your Excellency reason to be so sanguine, as to hope, that by this time, any detachment could have been made from hence. The evacuation of Portsmouth has employed one Engineer, & a number of Labourers & Artificers, & with every exertion by Land & Water, I do not expect that business to be completed before the 21st or 22<sup>d</sup> inst<sup>t</sup>. Since our Arrival we have bestowed our whole labour on the Gloucester Side, but I do not think the Works there, (after great fatigue to the Troops) are at present, or will be for some time to come, safe against a Coup de Main with less than one thousand men. *After our experience of the labour & difficulty of constructing Works at this Season of the Year, & the plan for fortifying this side not being entirely settled, I cannot at present say, whether I can spare any troops, or if any, how soon; But when the Garrison of Portsmouth arrives, & the Engineer's plan is completed, I shall apply to Captain Hudson for a Frigate<sup>2.3</sup> to carry my report<sup>4.5</sup> of the State<sup>6</sup> of <sup>c</sup>I beg leave to assure your Excellency, that before I resolved to pass James River to enable me to comply with your requisition of troops, I had very maturely considered the general tenor of your dispatches to General Phillips, as well as those to me of the 11th and 15th of June, delivered on the 26th, by Ensign Amiel ; and when I decided upon that measure, I sufficiently felt how mortifying it was to me, personally, and how much the reputation of his Majesty's arms would suffer by it in this province.

But your Excellency was pleased to give me to understand, in your dispatch of the 11th, that you wished to concentrate your force, being threatened with an attack at New York by General Washington with twenty thousand men<sup>1</sup> at least, besides an expected French reinforcement, and the numerous militia of the five neighbouring provinces ; and, in your dispatch <sup>d</sup>of the 15th, supposing that I had not thought it expedient to engage in operations in the Upper Chesapeak, and that those I had undertaken in this province would be finished, you require that

My own operations being finished, and being of opinion, that, with the force under my command, and circumstanced as I was, in a variety of respects, it would have been highly inconsiderate in me, and dangerous for the King's service, to engage in operations in the Upper Chesapeak, I thought it incumbent upon me to take effectual measures to enable me to obey so explicit an order<sup>4</sup> without loss of time. The works at Gloucester are now in such forwardness, that a smaller detachment than the present garrison would be in safety against a sudden attack ; but I make no alteration there, as I cannot hope that the labour of the whole will complete that post in less than five or six weeks.

My experience there of the fatigue and difficulty of constructing works in this warm season, convinces me, that all the labour that the troops here will be capable of, without ruining their health, will be required at least for six weeks to put the intended works at this place in a tolerable state of defence. And as your Excellency has been pleased to communicate to me your intention of re-commencing <sup>a</sup>operations in the Chesapeak about the beginning of October, I will not venture to take any step that might retard the establishing<sup>9</sup> of this<sup>10</sup> post<sup>11</sup> : but I request that your Excellency will be pleased to decide whether it is more important for your plans that a detachment of a thousand or twelve hundred men, which I think I can spare from every other purpose but that of labour, should be sent to you from hence, or that the whole of the troops here should <sup>b</sup>be employed in expediting the works.<sup>c</sup>

My last accounts of the enemy were, that the Marquis de la Fayette was encamped in the fork of the Pamunky and <sup>d</sup>Matapony with his own detachment of Continentals, a considerable body of eighteen-months men<sup>12</sup>, and two brigades of militia under <sup>e</sup>Stevens and Lawson ; that he had armed four hundred of the seven hundred Virginia prisoners lately arrived from Charles-town, and expected to be joined 147 CLINTON TO CORNWALLIS, 27 Aug. 1781, ANSWER [251] i. 93.

With Clinton's Manuscript Note.

Sir Henry Clinton, K. B. to Earl Cornwallis, dated

New-York, August 27th, 1781. [Received from the Secretary at New-York, November 19th, 1781.]

My Lord, I had the honour to receive your Lordship's letter in cypher of the 17th instant, by the Swallow dispatch boat, which arrived here the 23d. In answer to which, I must confess that I conceived your letter of the 27th ultimo, gave me reason to suppose it was your intention to send me the troops you could spare, as soon as you finished the evacuation of Portsmouth; and I was impatient for their arrival for the reasons I have already communicated to you, as it is probable they would have been of infinite use had they come in time. For on the arrival of the two thousand five hundred raw German recruits which I mentioned in my last, and in the hope of reinforcement from your Lordship, I had assembled my little army in such a manner as to be able to avail myself of any opportunity which might be given me by the enemy, who had foraged within six miles of my lines on the 17th. This small movement was made on the 18th, they fell back on the 19th, and passed the Croton; afterwards crossed the Hudson at King's-ferry, and are now encamped in the neighbourhood of Chatham.

I cannot well ascertain Mr. Washington's real intentions by this move of his army; but it is possible he means for the present to suspend his offensive operations against this post, and to take a defensive station at the old post of Morris-town, from whence he may detach to the southward. On this account therefore, and because the season is approaching when operation may recommence in the Chesapeak, I request your Lordship will be pleased to keep with you all the troops you have there, and I shall send you such recruits, convalescents, &c. as can go by this sudden opportunity; which are all that I can at present spare; as this move of the enemy may be only a feint, and they may return to their former position, which they certainly will do, if De Grasse arrives. But towards the latter end of next month, when the effects of the equinox are over, (for I am persuaded the Admiral will not approve of any water movements till then) if this post should not be threatened, I propose to reinforce the Chesapeak army with all the troops which can possibly be spared consistently with the security of this important post.

General Leslie has been here some days, he will himself explain to your Lordship the cause of his coming. I was much concerned to find him in so bad a state of health on his arrival, but it is now much altered for the better; he embarks to-morrow to proceed to Chesapeak on his way to Charlestown.

If your Lordship from your knowledge of the state of South-Carolina, should be opinion that any troops may be spared from thence, I beg leave to suggest that the sooner you give orders for their joining you the better.

I have the honour to be, &c. H. CLINTON.<sup>1</sup>

I congratulate with you upon the safe arrival of the German Recruits.

The Packet has been detained for some time as it was unsafe for any Vessel to sail whilst the combined Fleets of France and Spain were Cruising off the Channel, 'till Admiral Darby could put to Sea. As the Communication is now open, the Packet will be immediately dispatched, and I hope very soon to have another opportunity of writing to you.

I am happy in knowing by your Letter of the 20th August, that the French Fleet had not then arrived on the Coast of North America; "I trust before the end of <sup>b</sup>that Month Sir Samuel Hood will have been with you, and that after his junction with Admiral Graves, Our Superiority at Sea will be preserved." 1-2-3-4-5 Mr. Washington could never have had any serious thoughts of attacking New York, unless the French Fleet could have defeated or blocked up that of Great Britain, and that France would have considerably reinforced its Land Army. As I trust now no such event can happen, I most sincerely wish all possible success to the Operations you may judge proper to undertake, and I shall be happy in hearing that you have been able to execute that very important plan which you had adopted of taking Philadelphia, and thereby ruining that valuable Trade, which has been lately the Chief support of the Rebellion.

160 WASHINGTON TO DE GRASSE, NARRATIVE [55] p 56.
 With Clinton's Manuscript Notes.

"I am unable to describe to your Excellency the painful anxiety under which I have laboured since the reception of the letter you did me the honour to write me of the 23d instant.<sup>1</sup> The motions of the naval force under your command, which your Excellency says may possibly happen, since the information communicated to you by the Baron de Clozen, obliges me to point out the consequences that may follow; and warmly to urge a perseverance in the plan agreed upon between us. Permit me, in the first place, to repeat to your Excellency, that the attempt upon York, under the protection of your shipping, is as certain of success as a superior<sup>2</sup> force<sup>3</sup> and a superiority of measures can render any military operation; that the duration of the siege may be exactly ascertained; and that the capture of the British army is a matter so important in itself, and in its consequences, that it must greatly tend to bring an end to the war, and put our allied arms in certain possession of the most inestimable advantages.

"If your Excellency quits the Bay, an access is open to<sup>4</sup> relieve York,<sup>5</sup> of which the enemy will instantly avail themselves. The consequences of this will be not only the disgrace of abandoning a design on which are founded the fairest hopes of the allied forces, after a prodigious expence, fatigue, and exertions; but the probable disbanding of the whole army; for the present seat of war being such, as absolutely precludes the use of waggons, from the great number of large rivers which intersect the country, there will be a total want of provisions, unless this inconvenience is remedied by water carriage. This province has been so exhausted by the ravages of the enemy, and by the support already given to our forces, that subsistence must be drawn from a distance, and that can be done only by a fleet superior in the Bay.<sup>6</sup>

“ I earnestly beg your Excellency would consider, that if, by moving your fleet from the situation agreed on, we lose the present opportunity, we shall never hereafter have it in our power to strike so decisive a stroke, that the British will labour without intermission to fortify<sup>7</sup> a place so<sup>8</sup> useful<sup>9-10</sup> to their shipping; and that then<sup>11</sup> the period of an honourable peace will be farther distant<sup>12</sup> than ever.<sup>13</sup>

“ The confidence I have in your Excellency’s manly spirit and naval talents leaves me no doubt that the consideration of the consequences that must follow your departure from the Bay will determine you to use all possible means for the good of the common cause. 10i this marks his opinion what could be done at York.

11i then underlined.

12i distant underlined.

13c by this we see what might have been done by time & labour. had his Lordship maintained the outer Position.

take such a position in the Bay as to leave nothing to be apprehended from an attempt of the English fleet;<sup>14</sup> that this position will at the same time facilitate the operations of the siege, secure the transportation of our provisions by water, and accelerate our approaches by landing our heavy artillery and warlike necessaries in York River almost close to our trenches.

“The force said to have arrived under Admiral Digby, as the news comes from the British themselves, may not only be exaggerated, but perhaps absolutely false; but supposing it to be true, their whole force united cannot be such as to give them any hopes of success in the attacking your fleet.<sup>15</sup> If the position for your ships to lie at an anchor, which we agreed upon, has since appeared impracticable, there is still another measure may be adopted; which, though much inferior as to the security and facility it will give to our land operations, may still be of advantage to our affairs. The measure, I mean, is to cruise off the Bay, so as to keep the Capes always in sight, and to prevent any English vessels getting in.<sup>16</sup>

“Whatever plan you may adopt, I am to press your Excellency to persevere in the scheme so happily concerted between us; but if you should find insurmountable obstacles in the way, let me ultimately beg of you not to relinquish the last mentioned alternative of preventing all vessels from the enemy entering the Bay of Chesapeak.<sup>17</sup>

14a There is no doubt If De Grasse had placed his Fleet between the York spit. and the Horse shoe we could not have entered York river, but we might have entered the bay and landed in some of the small ones not far from Gloucester, De Gasse took his position between the Horse shoe and middle ground, in such a Tides way that we were convinced he could not avail himself of the springs on his cables.

15a not in attacking but passing at anchor.

16a had this been followed we had certainly got in, being all Copper our Fleet would have out sailed the Enemy's.

17c Had He done this as the British ships were all coppered,

“The British Admiral may manœuvre his fleet, and endeavour to draw you from the main object we have in view; but I can never believe, that he will seriously wish to bring on a general action with a fleet, whose force, I will answer for it, is superior to the most exaggerated accounts we have of theirs.<sup>18</sup> Passed experience has taught them not to hazard themselves with equal numbers;<sup>19</sup> and has drawn from them, though unwillingly, the most respectful opinions of their enemy.

“Permit me to add that the absence of your fleet from the Bay may frustrate our design upon the garrison at York. For in the present situation of matters, Lord Cornwallis might<sup>20</sup> evacuate<sup>21,22</sup> the place with the loss of his artillery, baggage, and a few men, sacrifices; which would be highly justifiable from the desire of saving “the body of the army.”<sup>23</sup>

22i here he gives a decided opinion that L. Cornwallis might retire.

23a His Lordship might have escaped to South Carolina with such a sacrifice no doubt any time before Washington had joined La Fayette, but he says He was prevented by my assurances of the exertions of the Navy as the Army. I must assert most positively (indeed he owns it) that He never received any such assurances from me before the Junction of Washington & La Fayette. He had only hopes, & he knew those hopes were founded on the probable exertions of 21 sail of the line against 37, & at all events lost the means of future operation in short nothing could save L. Cornwallis but a Fleet or respectable place of arms till such Fleet should arrive.

6aA on this evening for the first time Lord Cornwallis receives assurances from S H C of the exertions of the Navy as well as army. I had no other means of Judging what was meant by a reasonable time but by what he said respecting his Provisions 6 weeks.

7aA alas in that sickly Climate at the worst season what are you to expect.

8aC on the 29th at night Ld Cornwallis for the first time (as he now owns himself in his letter of the 2d Decr) he received assurances of the Exertions of the fleet, who Questions the full force of all we had or could expect Digby having joined he knew it was only 25, sail of the line and 3 fiftys; he knew the Enemy had 37 of the line. let him recollect his letter of the 27th July and then tell me why under the above Circumstances he did not retire, I gave him our whole force, he knew that of the Enemy which I did not if he thought it so very superior why did he not retire in time, or rather why did he still invite me to join him at such evident risks as he calls them. the fact is he knew their superiority the 13th he might Easily have beat St Simon & La fayette & if he had W. could not have injured him if he had not he might have retired to the southward before Washington joined on the 27th but it was a maxim with his Lordship to take the credit of every success of his and give me the blame of Every failure.

9dC Short Substance of Correspondence 11th July S H Clinton after consulting Admiral Graves and commodore directs L. Cornwallis to secure a naval Station in James River—L C. in answer the 27th July disapproves of James River & chosos York River in perference—L. C. 16 August, promises a report of the state of things and shall expect S H C commands on it— L C. 22 augt Implying that the works of York Town will be compleat in 6 weeks and that He can spare 1000 men from their defence. S H C. 30 Augt saying S S Hood was arrived with 14 sail & that Barras had sailed from R. Island. S H C. informing that Washington had marched to the South<sup>d</sup> and promising for the Army all that was in it's power; L. C. 31. augt saying the French Fleet had arrived and St Simon with 3000 men landed within 12 miles. S H C. 6th Sepr saying He had embarked 4000 men & would join L C. as soon as the Adl would convoy or convey the army. L C. 8th Sepr has provisions for 6 weeks. L C. 16 if He had not hopes of Relief he would risk action with La fayette & St Simon but as S H C. says Digby is hourly expected, and promise every Exertion to assist him, will not venture to attack an inferior army not 12 miles from him. N.B. it will be seen that S H C. did not say Digby was hourly Expected nor did S H promise Every Exertion the most material He could not promise, S H C 24 Sept promising Every exertion of Fleet and army, and hopes it would sail about the 5th octr S H 25th informing L. if he has sent You any part that You will return them to him, and as soon as the Heats are abated transport a strong Detachment to Baltimore,<sup>a3</sup> and excite the Loyalists in Maryland to declare themselves. The return of Mons<sup>r</sup> de Grasse to the West Indies, which I expect will happen about this time, will leave You at Liberty to execute the other <sup>b</sup>parts of Your Plan, by sending a considerable Force into the Delaware for the double purpose of destroying the Rebel Stores at Philadelphia, and encouraging and protecting the Loyalists in the lower <sup>c</sup>Countries in their long concerted purpose of rising upon the Rebel Rulers, and restoring His Majesty's Government in the Peninsula; both, or either of these Events cannot fail of being productive of Consequences the most essential to The King's Affairs in the present State of the Rebellion; but as You are so thoroughly possessed of their Importance, I need not enter into a Detail of them, I shall therefore close the subject by only adding that unless one of these Events happens to convince the People of this Country that We have Friends in America, I cannot answer for the turn things may take here. A fair and full Trial should therefore be made of the Sincerity of the Loyal Associators, and no Circumstance of Encouragement neglected that may serve to induce them to stand forth in defence of the Constitution. The Lines within which Lord Rawdon has confined his Posts in South Carolina and Georgia appear to be very judiciously drawn, and I hope the Force in those Provinces will be fully equal to the Protection of the Country within them; but I fear the narrowness of their Limits will be the Occasion of some Inconvenience to the Troops, and Distress to the Inhabitants from the want of fresh Provisions, as the greatest part of the Country from whence they draw their Supplies of Cattle is left out. Care however will be taken here to keep up a sufficient Store of Salt Provisions for the Troops, and they can supply themselves abundantly with Rice. The Superiority in Numbers of the Rebel Cavalry has given them great Advantages, but I hope the Measures Lord Rawdon has taken, aided by the very liberal Subscription of the Inhabitants of Charles Town, will enable General Leslie to mount so considerable a Corps as to deter the Rebel Parties from making Incursions within Our Line of Posts, and I shall order a large Supply of Horse Accoutrements and Arms to be sent there by the next Convoy.

I am sorry You will receive only one of the three Regiments ordered to be sent to You from the West Indies, the Mortality among the Troops there having been so great that General Vaughan did not think it safe to spare the others from the defence of the Islands remaining in Our Possession. The Facility with which Major Odell and Lord Charles Montagu raised their Corps among the Rebel Prisoners for Service in the West Indies, is a Proof that the Americans are not averse to going there, and altho' the Prisoners are now released, I should hope by holding out the same Encouragement as was given by Major Odell and Lord Charles, many of them might be induced to return, and engage for that Service, and as by that means the Rebel Force would be reduced, and Our Islands strengthened, without drawing more Troops from this Country—I must recommend the Measure to Your Consideration, as affording a proper and advantageous Mode of employing such Deserters as may come in upon Your Proclamation, and choose to go to the West Indies, and You will either form them into Corps, or independent Companies, as You shall judge most proper and agreeable to them.

I am much concerned that the Publication of any of my intercepted Letters should be the Occasion of Uneasiness to You. The Computation I had made of the Rebel Troops, and of the Provincial Forces in The King's Service was founded upon a Variety of Information I received by Letters from Persons of Consideration at New York; intercepted Letters from Officers in the Rebel Army, and Intelligence through Foreign Courts, of what had been written by the Congress, and the French Agents and Commanders, to the Court of France, compared with Your Returns of Effectives without making any Deduction of Sick, as I supposed their number might be equal in both Armies, and I therefore imagined I was warranted in what I set down as the Amount, and in the Inferences I drew from it. "The Provision You made,<sup>4</sup> for the Southern Service was certainly most<sup>5</sup> ample, and I have always considered and spoke of it, as a Circumstance highly to Your Honor, and as an Evidence of Your being actuated by the purest Zeal for the public Service, and tho' I lament exceedingly that from a Concurrence of untoward Events the Success was not equal to the sanguine Expectations I had entertained, I never imputed any part of the disappointment to a Deficiency in Your Supplies.<sup>6.7</sup>

The Attention You have shewn to the Associated Refugees is much approved by The King, & in the Letters I have seen from them, they express themselves highly sensible of their Obligations to You, and appear resolved to act with unremitting Vigor and Intrepidity against the Enemy. If their numbers become Considerable, I have no doubt they will render Important Service, and altho' the Publication of my Letter may put the New England Rebels upon their guard, and incite them to strengthen Casco Bay, I am not without hopes that the general Knowledge of the Assurance You are therein authorized to give, of establishing a Civil Government in the Eastern Country, will induce many peaceably disposed Subjects to remove into it, and produce the very effect the Publication was intended to prevent.

The large number of Recruits and of the released Convention Troops You sent to Canada will compensate <sup>a V reads Governor</sup> General Haldimand for the Disappointment of the Brunswick Recruits of this Year, and I am very happy that he will have the Assistance of so good an Officer as General Riedesel in the latter part of the Campaign. The long detention of the Quebec Autumn Fleet will, I fear, prevent its making the Passage this Year, tho' as the Spring Convoy carried out very ample Supplies, I do not apprehend either the Troops or Inhabitants will suffer any Inconvenience from it. I am however very anxious that General Haldimand should receive my Dispatch that was intended to have gone by the Cerberus, as it contains Instructions which by His Letter to You appear to be all that is wanting to effect an Accomodation with the Vermont People, and I send You inclosed herewith, an unsealed Duplicate of my Letter, that You may forward either the whole, or Extracts by such Conveyances as You can confide in, and if You have a proper Opportunity, acquaint Ethan Allen with The King's Gracious Intentions to make the Boundary of the <sup>b V omits New</sup> New Province as extensive as he can desire.

I should lament exceedingly that Differences arose between the Army and Navy on account of the Division of Prizes taken from the Enemy, and I am happy to find the Army have taken the Step You mention in Your separate Letter of the 18th of July, for bringing their Claims to a legal Decision, and as it is my Wish that they should share in every Advantage with the Navy where the two Services act together, if the Prizes they have libelled be condemned to The King I shall endeavour that the Distribution may be such as shall place the Army upon <sup>c FSV omit of</sup> a footing with the Navy employed upon the Expedition, as far as the amount of these Prizes will serve to do it.

I have the Pleasure to acquaint You, that the combined Fleets of France and Spain, which appeared in the Month of August in great force at the Entrance of the Channel have separated and returned to their respective Ports of Brest and Cadiz, without effecting any thing against this Country or Ireland, or doing any material Injury to the Trade of either Kingdom, and Admiral Darby who had sailed from Torbay in quest of them the 15th of September, continues with his Fleet at Sea.

My Lord, I had the honour to receive your Lordship's letter of the 29th ult. on the 8th instant,<sup>2</sup> and that of the 3d on the 12th <sup>b</sup>instant, and am happy to hear that mine of the 24th and 25th have reached you.

At a council of war of the General officers, held on the 10th instant, it was resolved I should submit the three following plans to your Lordship's consideration. They occurred to us as secondary objects only, (in case we should find it absolutely impracticable to go directly up to York; or, by landing at Monday's point, effect a junction with you by the Gloucester side) and be thereby obliged to try James river.<sup>4</sup>

FIRST.

To land at Newport-News, and the troops to advance from thence on the James river road to some favourable position, in communication with that river, when we are to wait until we hear from your Lordship, or circumstances may make it proper for us to co-operate with you in effecting a junction of the two armies, which we at present think will be best done without your lines, in preference to an attempt of doing it within, for reasons we think obvious.<sup>1</sup>

SECOND.

To attempt a junction with you by a combined move, we moving up James river to James town, and your Lordship up the York river to either Queen's creek or <sup>g</sup>Cappahosick ferry, and effect the junction as near Williamsburg as we can; thereby putting ourselves in a situation to attack the enemy, should it be thought adviseable.<sup>h</sup>

THIRD.

To save as great a part<sup>i</sup> of your Lordship's corps <sup>k</sup>as possible, by bringing them off to James town, and a naval force will be ready to protect them. This we think may be done by our giving jealousy to the enemy from Newport News or Mulberry island, whilst your Lordship moving up the river with as many troops as your boats will carry, or marching up the Gloucester side, crosses the river, and lands either at Queen's creek or Cappahosick, and makes the best of your way to James town.

The above is our opinion of what is best to be done in case we do not hear from your Lordship. But, should we receive other ideas from you, we shall of course be governed by them.

By this your Lordship will perceive, our wishes are to effect the junction first by York, next by Gloucester, and, in case either of <sup>a</sup>these are absolutely impracticable, by the James river. First landing at Newport News, and taking a position ready to co-operate with your Lordship, in case you should recommend a combined effort to effect a junction that way; or to endeavour to effect it near Williamsburg, the two armies moving up the James and York rivers about the same time, we landing at James town, and your Lordship where you judge best; and when our junction is formed, bring on a general action with the enemy, should that on consultation be thought adviseable. But in case all these should fail, our last object will be to save as many of your Lordship's troops as we can, and leave the post at York afterwards to make the best terms they can for themselves.

The Torbay and Prince William having arrived on the 11th, our fleet at present consists of twenty-five sail of the line and two fifties, with a large number of frigates. They are now ready, and I expect we shall certainly sail in a day or two.<sup>b</sup>

P. S. Oct. 15. Had the wind been fair to-day, the fleet would have fallen down to the Hook, but I expect the whole will sail to-morrow.<sup>c</sup> that we may receive all possible information from you and the Commodore, of your situation, and the exact position of the enemy's fleet, to meet us off Cape Charles.

The time limited for sending my answer will not admit of entering into the detail of articles ; but the basis of my proposals will be, that the garrisons of York and Gloucester shall be prisoners of war, with the customary honours. And, for the 'conveniency of the individuals <sup>4</sup>which I have the honour to command, that the British shall be sent to Britain, and the Germans to Germany, under engagement not to serve against France, America, or their allies, until released or regularly exchanged. That all arms and public stores shall be delivered up to you ; but that the usual indulgence of side-arms to officers, and of retaining private property, shall be granted to officers and soldiers, and that the 'interest of several individuals, in civil capacities and connected with us, shall be attended to.

 Copy of General Washington's Letter to Earl Cornwallis, dated, 'Camp before York, 18th October, 1781.

<sup>b</sup>My Lord, To avoid unnecessary 'discussions and delays, I shall at once, in answer to your Lordship's 'letter of yesterday, declare the general basis upon which a definitive treaty 'of capitulation 'may take place.<sup>5</sup>

The garrisons of York and Gloucester, including the seamen, as you propose, 'shall be received prisoners of war. The condition annexed of sending the British and German troops to the parts of Europe to which they respectively belong, is inadmissible. Instead of this, they will be marched to such parts of the country as can most conveniently provide for their subsistence, and the benevolent treatment of 'the prisoners, which is invariably observed by the Americans, will be extended to them. The same honours will be granted to the surrendering army as were granted to the garrison of Charles-town.<sup>k</sup>

The shipping and boats in the two harbours, with all their guns, stores, tackling, furniture, and apparel, shall be delivered, in their present state, to an officer of the navy, appointed to take possession of them.

The artillery, arms, accoutrements, military chest, and public stores of every denomination, shall be delivered unimpaired to the heads of the departments to which they respectively belong.

The officers shall be indulged in retaining their side-arms, and the officers and soldiers may preserve their baggage and effects, with this reserve, that property taken in the country will be reclaimed.

With regard to the individuals in civil capacities, whose interest your Lordship wishes may be attended to, until they are more particularly described, nothing definitive can be settled.

I have to add, that I expect the sick and wounded will be supplied with their own hospital stores, and be attended by British surgeons, particularly charged with the care of them.

Your Lordship will be pleased to signify your determination, either to accept or reject the proposals now offered, in the course of two hours from the delivery of this letter, that Commissioners may be appointed to digest the articles of capitulation, or a renewal of hostilities may take place.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>b</sup>Sir, I agree to open a treaty of capitulation upon the basis of the garrisons of York and Gloucester, including seamen, being prisoners of war, without annexing the condition of their being sent to Europe; but I expect to receive a compensation in the articles of <sup>d</sup>capitulation for the surrender of <sup>e</sup>Gloucester in its present state of defence.<sup>1</sup>

I shall, in particular, desire, that the Bonetta sloop of war may be left entirely at my disposal, from the hour that the capitulation is signed, to receive an Aid-de-camp to carry my dispatches to Sir Henry Clinton. Such soldiers as I may think proper to send <sup>f</sup>as passengers in her, to be manned with fifty men of her own crew, and to be permitted to sail without examination, when my dispatches are ready: engaging, on my part, that the ship shall be brought back and delivered to you, if she escapes the dangers of the sea, that the crew and soldiers shall be accounted for in future exchanges, that she Cornwallis does not assert that previous to Washingtons junction with La fayette I had given the above assurances, & prevented his making two attempts to save his army, & whether he does not acknowledge Page 69 that I only gave him hopes: nor is he more correct in saying I told him the fleet would sail about the 5th read my letter I say there is every reason to hope the Fleet will sail —All this I assert in my narrative and observations, & there can be no doubt but that I do in the language of a Gentleman tell his Lordship that in an official letter he has asserted what is not true.

25cN S H Clintons letter of the 24th Sept Speaks for itself Page 197 Lord Cornwallis Reply, it promises that the joint exertions of 26 sail of the line and 5000 troops will be made in a few days to succour you. and that there is every reason to hope they will sail the 5th October no assurances could be given before the 24th these you received the 29th these therefore could not prevent your escaping before or immediately on the arrival of Washingtons Troops as they arrived the 27th at Williamsberg two days before you received my letter of the 24th assurances therefore you did not receive before the 29th nor than that the Fleet would sail but there was every reason to hope it would, so much for assurances now for the Hopes that were uniformly held out to your Lordship till the 29th you knew only of 20 sail under Graves, that he had had rather the worst in the action of the 5th that De Grasse had since joined Barras and that together they made 37 of the line notwithstanding this disparity of numbers I really believe we might have passed the French Fleet at anchor (owing to circumstances neither your Commodore or you knew) & I should have joined you, but surely your hopes could not be very sanguine, as to promises therefore I never could give any till the 24th, nor I never gave hopes of succour, except founded on those I had from the Navy without which your Lordships wishes of a junction with you in York river never could be made. the formal return of L. 26dN Your Lordship says in this letter that "as you were assured by my letters that every possible means would be tried, by the navy and army to relieve you, you could not think yourself at liberty to venture either to endeavour to escape to New York by rapid marches from the Gloucester side immediately on the arrival of Washington's troops

"at Williamsberg; or not'g the disparity of numbers have attacked them in the open field & &c you therefore waited two days, and on receipt of my letter of the 24th of September which you say you read on the 29th at "night you retired." now as you acknowledge in your letter of the 2<sup>d</sup> Decr Page 62 that I had never given you such assurances till in my letter of the 24th of Sept I need not repeat that in asserting that such assurances had prevented his doing the one or the other; he had asserted what was not true and therefore, if his Lordship's letter of the 20th Octr was (as he says in that of the 2<sup>d</sup> Decr) written to explain the motives which influenced his Conduct and to narrate the incidents that preceded His extremity that forced him to surrender, I shall leave to Candour to determine how far any assurances of mine did operate, & then to Comment on this very extraordinary assertion of his Lordship — which had, and I fear was intended to operate on the uninformed publick thus, to make them believe I had fed his Lordship with the hopes of naval succour, which alone could relieve him, & which the admirals knew I was not justified in giving until I had met them in Council, & received their sanction on the 24 Sept expecting the arrival of Lord Corns out of delicacy to him, I sent his letter of the 20 to England with<sup>t</sup> any Comment, on his arrival at N. The enemy broke ground on the <sup>b</sup>night of the 30th, and constructed on that night, and the two following days and nights, two redoubts, which, with some works that had belonged to our outward position, occupied a gorge between two creeks or ravines, which <sup>c</sup>come from the river on each side of the town.

On the night of the 6th of October they made their first parallel, extending from its right on the river to a deep ravine on the left,<sup>64</sup> nearly opposite to the center of this place, and embracing our whole left at the distance of six hundred yards. Having perfected this parallel, their batteries opened on the evening of the 9th, against our left, and other batteries fired at the same time against a redoubt, <sup>d</sup>advanced over <sup>e</sup>the Creek upon our <sup>f</sup>right, and defended by about one hundred and twenty men of the 23d regiment and marines, <sup>g</sup>who maintained that post with uncommon gallantry. The fire continued incessant from heavy cannon and from mortars and howitzes, throwing shells from eight to sixteen inches, until <sup>h</sup>all our guns on the left were silenced, our <sup>i</sup>work much damaged, and our loss of men considerable. On the night of the 11th they began their second parallel, about three hundred yards nearer to us; the troops being much weakened by sickness as well as by the fire of the besiegers, and <sup>k</sup>observing that the enemy had not only secured their flanks, but proceeded in every respect with the utmost regularity and caution, I could not venture so large sorties, as to hope from them any considerable effect; but otherwise, I did every thing in my power to interrupt <sup>a</sup>this work, by opening new embrazures for guns, and keeping <sup>b</sup>up a constant fire with all the howitzes and small mortars that we could man. On the evening of the 14th, they assaulted and carried two redoubts that had been advanced about three hundred yards for the purpose of delaying their approaches, and covering our left flank, and during the night included them in their second parallel, on which they continued to work with the utmost exertion. Being perfectly sensible that our works could not stand many hours after the opening of the batteries of that parallel, we not only continued a constant fire with all our mortars, and every gun that could be brought to bear upon it, but a little before day break <sup>c</sup>on the morning of the <sup>d</sup>16th, I ordered a sortie of about three hundred and fifty men under the direction of Lieutenant-colonel <sup>e</sup>Abercrombie to attack two batteries, which appeared to be in the greatest forwardness, and to spike the guns. A detachment of guards with the eightieth company of Grenadiers, under the command of Lieutenant-colonel Lake attacked the one, and one of Light Infantry under the command of Major Armstrong attacked the other, and both succeeded by forcing the redoubts that covered them, spiking eleven guns, and killing or wounding about one hundred of the French troops, who had the guard of that part of the trenches, and with little loss on our side. This action, though extremely honourable to the officers and soldiers who executed it, proved of little public advantage, for the cannon having been spiked in a hurry, were soon rendered fit for service again, and before dark the whole parallel and batteries appeared to be nearly complete. At this time we knew that there was no part of the whole front attacked, <sup>f</sup>on which we could show a single gun, and our shells were nearly expended; I <sup>g</sup>therefore had only to chuse between preparing to surrender next day, or endeavouring to get off with the greatest part of the troops, and I determined to attempt the latter, reflecting that though it should prove unsuccessful in its <sup>a</sup>immediate object, it might at least delay the enemy in the prosecution of further enterprizes : sixteen large boats<sup>65</sup> were prepared, and upon other pretexts were ordered to be in readiness to receive troops precisely at ten o'clock. With these I hoped to pass the infantry during the night, abandoning our baggage, and leaving a detachment to capitulate for the town's people, and<sup>b</sup> the sick and wounded ; on which subject a letter was ready to be delivered to General Washington. After making my arrangements with the utmost secrecy, the Light Infantry, greatest part of the Guards, and part of the twenty-third regiment landed at Gloucester ; but at <sup>c</sup>this critical moment, the weather from being moderate and calm, changed to a <sup>e</sup>most violent storm of wind and rain, and drove all the boats, some of which had troops on board, down the river. <sup>f</sup>It was soon evident that the intended passage was impracticable, and the absence of the boats rendered it equally impossible to bring back the troops that had passed ; which I had ordered about two<sup>g</sup> in the morning. In this situation, with my little force divided, the enemy's batteries opened at day break ; the passage between this place and Gloucester was much exposed, but the boats having now returned, they were ordered to bring back the troops that had passed during the night, and they joined <sup>h</sup>us in the forenoon without much loss. Our works in the mean time were going to ruin, and not having been able to strengthen them by abbatis, nor in any other manner <sup>i</sup>but by a slight fraizing which the enemy's artillery were demolishing wherever they fired, my opinion entirely coincided with that of the engineer and <sup>k</sup>principal officers of the army, that they were in many <sup>l</sup>places <sup>m</sup>assailable in the forenoon, and that by the continuence of the same fire for a few hours longer, they would be in such a state as to render it desperate with our numbers <sup>a</sup>to attempt to maintain them. We at that time could not fire a single gun, only one eight-inch and little more than <sup>b</sup>an hundred cohorn shells remained; a diversion by the French ships of war that lay at the mouth of York-river, was to be expected. Our numbers had been diminished by the enemy's fire, but particularly by sickness, and the strength and spirits of those in the works were much exhausted by the fatigue of constant watching and unremitting duty. Under all these circumstances, I thought it would have been wanton and inhuman to the last degree to sacrifice the lives of this small body of gallant soldiers, who had ever behaved with so much fidelity and courage, by exposing <sup>c</sup>them to an assault, which from the numbers and <sup>d</sup>precautions of the enemy could not fail to succeed.<sup>66</sup> I therefore proposed to capitulate, and I have the honour to inclose to your Excellency the copy of the correspondence between General Washington and me on that subject, and the terms of <sup>e</sup>capitulation agreed upon. I sincerely lament that better could not be obtained, but I have neglected nothing <sup>f</sup>in my power to alleviatè the <sup>g</sup>misfortune and distress of both officers and soldiers.<sup>67</sup> The men are well clothed and provided with necessaries, and I trust will be regularly supplied by the means of the officers that are permitted to remain with them. The treatment, in general, that we have received from the enemy since our surrender, has been perfectly good and proper; but the kindness

Captain <sup>a</sup>Apthorp, and the subsequent detachments commanded by Lieutenant-colonel <sup>b</sup>Johnson, deserve particular commendation. Captain Rochfort who commanded the artillery, and indeed every officer and soldier of that distinguished corps; and Lieutenant <sup>c</sup>Sutherland the commanding Engineer have merited in every respect my highest approbation; and I cannot sufficiently acknowledge my obligations to Captain Symonds, who commanded his Majesty's ships, and to the other officers and seamen of the navy for their <sup>d</sup>active and zealous co-operation.

I transmit returns of our killed and wounded the loss of seamen and townspeople was likewise considerable.

I trust <sup>e</sup>that your Excellency will please to hasten the return of the Bonetta, after landing her passengers, in compliance with the article of capitulation.

Lieutenant-colonel <sup>f</sup>Abercrombie will have the honour to deliver this dispatch, and is well qualified to explain to your Excellency every particular relating to our past and present situation.<sup>g</sup>

“My Lord, After the <sup>b</sup>conversation I had with your Lordship<sup>3</sup> before I sent your letter <sup>4,5</sup> to be published, in which we seemed so perfectly to agree,<sup>6</sup> I must beg your Lordship's pardon for again troubling you on the subject. <sup>4</sup>But, being <sup>6</sup>informed, perhaps <sup>7</sup>officiously, that some people here suppose there are passages in that letter which convey an idea that you had been compelled by my orders to take the post of York, (though it was not your own preference;) that you had represented the defects of the ground;<sup>7</sup> and were detained there contrary to your own judgement;— and likewise that I had promised the exertions of the navy before my letter <sup>8</sup>of the 24th <sup>h</sup>of September: <sup>8</sup> I am persuaded your Lordship will readily excuse my requesting a more formal avowal of your sentiments, lest I should <sup>9</sup>have then mistaken them.<sup>9</sup> <sup>1</sup>Because, if that should unfortunately be the case, I may perhaps be under the necessity of taking measures to obviate your letter being viewed in the same light in England.

My Lord, <sup>d1</sup>Your Lordship will have received in my Dispatch, N<sup>o</sup> 146, the Copies of Lord Cornwallis's Letter to me of the 20th October, his Capitulation for the Posts of York and Gloucester, and the other Papers which accompanied it. But Your Lordship will perceive that I declined making any remarks upon his Letter until I saw his Lordship, knowing that my whole Correspondence with him being in Your Lordship's Possession every thing which wanted explanation could readily be cleared up. <sup>f</sup>His Lordship having arrived here on the 19th Ultimo, I have had several Conversations with him, and I have now the honor to inclose, for Your Lordship's Information, the Copy of a Letter I wrote him on this Subject, with his Lordship's Answer.<sup>2</sup>

f F new ¶

I perceive by Lord Cornwallis's Letter of the 20th October, that his Opinion of the Post of York is very unfavorable, and he since tells me that he does not think the Enemy will be able to make a strong One of it. Had his Lordship, however, not been so very decided in his Sentiments of the Post, all the Accounts I had ever before received of the Situation and Defensibility of the Ground, would, I confess, have inclined me to have thought well of it.<sup>h3</sup>

By every Information I have received, I understand that all the French Troops under Mons<sup>r</sup> de Rochambeau remain in Virginia: The Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia Lines, amounting to about 3,000, are gone towards Carolina, and the rest of the Rebel Force is moving Northward, to join, it is supposed, the Eastern Troops left here under Heath. This Corps will probably Garrison the Forts at West Point, and the others remain in their old Cantonments in Jersey.

his letter to go to England unaccompanied by mine in answer.

<sup>2b</sup> I was much too liberal with L. Corns I should not have suffered <sup>3b</sup> I am sure I ought to do so after his letter of 22<sup>d</sup> of august & subsequent.

Not having received any Accounts from the Carolinas since June, it is impossible for me, My Lord, to say what may be the State of Affairs in that Quarter; I fear, however, by Intelligence from the Rebel Country, that we hold little more than Charlestown in either Province.

With respect to this Post, Your Lordship will see by <sup>a S reads</sup> my Returns that I am left with a force totally <sup>the</sup> inadequate to its defence, if such an Armament should come against it as the Combined force which acted lately in Chesapeak. For I am persuaded that when Your Lordship recollects our Insular and very extensive Situation, You will agree with me that nothing but an Army capable of meeting that of the Enemy in the Field can effectually secure this Post from such an Attack, and You must be sensible that 12,000 Men in the whole (exclusive of about 2000 unpractised Militia whose feeble exertions may be depended on) will be a force very unequal to the Purpose. Therefore unless I shall be reinforced Your Lordship cannot be surprised if our Situation should become critical. From the Eastward I can draw nothing from South Carolina alone therefore can I expect any Assistance. The force which from the last Returns I suppose to be in that Province and Georgia may amount to about 7700, Men, of which Savannah I imagine may require 1000, and Charlestown 4,000, to Garrison them; so that only about 2,700, will remain to be brought here should our occasions require them, and the Admiral be able to furnish a Convoy for them in March or April. But should those Posts be threatened before then, and a Fleet of sufficient force can be collected, I shall prepare to adopt such Measures as may enable me to take advantage of any Opening they may give me in forming their Investiture: As the inclosed Copy of a Letter I sent to General Leslie will explain to Your Lordship, with the Intention, however, (if that should not be the Case,) of assembling at this Post early in the Spring all the force which can Possibly be collected from every other, which however when assembled I cannot flatter myself will bear any Proportion to the Numbers which I find the Enemy can bring together on any Material Emergency, but for so favorite an Object as this, there is no judging in what Multitudes the Neighbouring populous Provinces will pour out their Warlike Militia and, if the Enemy should be again superior at Sea, I shall have every reason to fear the most fatal Consequences.

I am persuaded, that it will appear by my Letters to Lord Cornwallis of the 11th and 15th <sup>d</sup>June, and those referred to by them, that I recommended his taking a healthy defensive Station either at Williamsburg or York<sup>11-12</sup>; and desired, that after keeping what Troops he might want for its most ample Defence, and desultory Movements by Water, his Lordship would send me such a Proportion of the Corps mentioned in a List, as he could spare, taking them in the Succession they are there placed 'in. “My Lord, As your Lordship is pleased, in your letter of this day, to revert to the circumstance of your quitting <sup>b</sup>Williamsburg Neck and repassing the James River, so contrary to the intentions I wished to express in my letters of the 11th and 15th of June, and those referred to by them, and which I thought they would have clearly explained. Your Lordship will, I hope, <sup>4</sup>forgive me, if I once more repeat that I am of opinion, if those letters had been properly understood by your Lordship, you would at least have hesitated before you adopted that measure. For I humbly presume <sup>e</sup>it will appear, upon a re-perusal of them, that it was my desire to recommend to your Lordship the taking a healthy defensive station, either at Williamsburg or York; and, after keeping what troops you might want for the ample defence of such a post, and desultory movements by water, to send me such a proportion of the corps (mentioned in a list) as you could spare, taking them in the succession they are there placed.<sup>a</sup> Your Lordship, on the contrary, understood these as conveying a positive order to send me three thousand men, (by which you say your force would have been reduced to about two thousand four hundred rank and file fit for duty; having, it is presumed, above 1500 sick;) and was pleased to tell me, in your answer, that you could not, consistent with my plans, make safe defensive posts at York and Gloucester, (both of which would be necessary for the protection of shipping;) and that you should immediately repass James River, and take measures for complying with my requisition.

“I own, my Lord, that my opinion of the obvious meaning of the letters referred to, continues still the same; and I am <sup>b</sup>exceedingly sorry to find, by the letter you have now honoured me with, that it differs so widely from your Lordship’s. It is plain, however, we cannot both be in the right.

“My letter of the 11th of July directs your Lordship to fortify Old Point Comfort,<sup>3</sup> in the mouth of James River, with the intention of securing Hampton Road, which the Admiral recommended as the best naval station, and requested I would occupy. But your Lordship’s letter of the 27th of July informs me, you had examined Old Point Comfort, with the officers of the navy, and the engineers, and that you were all of opinion, a post there would not answer the purpose; and that you should, <sup>d</sup>therefore, in compliance with the spirit of my orders, seize York<sup>4</sup> and Gloucester,<sup>5</sup> being the only harbour in which you could hope to be able to give effectual<sup>6</sup> protection to line of battle ships. “With respect to your Lordship’s having been influenced in your conduct, by the hopes of relief, (which you say was uniformly held out to you in all my letters) your Lordship cannot be insensible, that the possibility of effecting it must have entirely depended upon the exertions of the navy; which, as I was not authorised to promise<sup>10</sup> before the 24th of September, I am persuaded your Lordship will readily acknowledge, that if your letter of the 20th <sup>b</sup>October<sup>11-12</sup> implies<sup>13</sup> I had done so<sup>14</sup> before that period,<sup>15</sup> the implication cannot<sup>16-17</sup> be supported by any thing I wrote previous to my letter of that date, which you received on the 29th.<sup>18-19-20-21</sup> 18aN three days after Washington had joined La Fayette.

19eN the fact is shortly thus. he received no assurance till the 29th after the whole army of the Enemy had joined, and but little hopes for on the 16. he reported to me the Enemy had 37 of the line, & he had received my letter that we had only 19. notwithstanding which he missed the opportunity of coasting St Simon or La fayette or both within a few miles of him, lost the opportunity of beating an army en detail coming to beseige him, under pretence that I had promised the exertions of a fleet which I most positively have and do deny and which in his letter in answer to this he owns he had no right to assert.

20aA He owns it, but seemingly malgre lui.

21dC he not only implies but asserts it in his letter of the 20. octr but he owns in that of the 2d Decr he had no authority to

“ As, therefore, my letters of the 2d and 6th <sup>a</sup>of September,<sup>22</sup> which promise only my own exertions, did not reach your Lordship before the 13th and 14th of that month, and you did not before then know of Sir Samuel Hood’s arrival, or of Mr. <sup>b</sup>Graves’s having more than seven sail of the line to combat Monsieur ‘De Grasse’s force, which on the 29th <sup>d</sup>of August<sup>23</sup> you had heard consisted of at least twenty-five sail of the line; your Lordship consequently could have no hopes of relief before that time.<sup>24</sup> And with respect to your escape to New-York, immediately on the arrival of General Washington’s troops at Williamsburg, which your letter of the 20th of October implies you were prevented from undertaking, by the receipt of mine of the 24th <sup>e</sup>of September; I must beg leave to observe, that if it had been ever practicable after the time your Lordship mentions (which I am free to own I do not think it was) it must have been between that period and the time of the enemy’s force appearing before your lines. It may, therefore, be presumed, you could not have been prevented by any thing I said in that letter,<sup>25</sup> as you did not receive say so—or that I had assured him the fleet would sail about the 5th octr.

22aA He affected to say these letters gave him assurance of every exertion; that he therefore expected me to an hour, and did not hold himself Justified even in Engaging in any Oper<sup>n</sup> even of 12 hours & to beat an army en detail lest I should arrive in the interim assurances I had not given him. what his hopes were he best knows. He knew from me of no more that 8 sail British. He reported to me that the Enemy had 28 before their Junction with Barras, & told me also there had been an action & the French returned Victo<sup>s</sup> what hopes therefore could he at that time have. but if I had absurdly promd him to be with him at any particular hour should that have prevented his attempting to beat an army en detail.

23aN before Barras with 7 sail had joined.

24bN L. Cornwallis could literally have no hopes till the 14th Sepr & very little after till the 29th Sepr when for the first time he received assurances that fleet and army would attempt to succour him, & hopes they would sail from N. York about the 5th Octr.

25dN I had pointed out the danger of operation he had forced me into, with a covering Fleet I had been positively & repeatedly promised one, by Minister and Admirals.

it until after the latter event took place. But I readily admit, my Lord, that none of my letters could give you the least reason to suppose that an attempt would not be made to succour you.<sup>26</sup>

“Your Lordship will, I am persuaded, also forgive me, if I again take notice of the too positive manner in which you are pleased to speak of the opinion I gave you about the sailing of the fleet; as my words were, “there is every reason to hope we shall start “from hence <sup>a</sup>about the 5<sup>b</sup> of October.”<sup>27-28-29</sup> And in my letter of the next day, for fear that should appear too positive, I say, “It is supposed the necessary repairs of the fleet will detain us here to the “5th of next month; and your Lordship must be “sensible that unforeseen accidents may lengthen it “out a day or two longer.”

With regard to entrenching tools,<sup>30-31-32</sup> the want of which your Lordship <sup>d</sup>so much complains of, I can only say, that by the returns made to me by the Ad-

26bN because being promised a superior Fleet, & not knowing we had not one till the 23 Sept I could not say we should not attempt to succour you because I had said we would as soon as the admiral would convey us and was safe.

27dN still assurances for hopes and on this very expression of L. Cornwallis the admiral told me I had been so positive in assuring him.

28aN In the conversation alluded to when I told L. Cornwallis I had not assured him the Fleet would sail about the 5th his answer was that he had put in the word about still to express doubt, I observed to L. Corns that my words expressed my meaning probably better than his.

29aA in our Convers<sup>n</sup> he acknowledged that I had not promised the Fleet would sail about the 5th octr he thought his own words not much stronger, but why not repeat mine, the difference is certainly very great. I gave him hopes, he says promises, but all my orders were recommendations, my assurances only hopes & vice versa as it suited the noble Lord.

30dN the fact is since proved by a formal return of his Engineer that he had 992.

31cN when L. C. arrived in Virginia he said there were too many intrenching tools sent 500 to Carolinas, reports he has only 400 left & his Engineer returns 992.

32aA Short fact is thus L. C. thinking he had too many when he arrived in Chesapeak ordered 300 away, & at this time by formal return had 992.

40aN my first words to his Lordship after telling him that tho there were implications nay assertions in that letter which could not be supported I had out of Delicacy sent it to England without any comment of mine, till I had seen his Lordship. I then said "I knew nothing of "York and Gloucester they were "your own choice in preference. I never heard that the ground of York was unfavorable, the works infiladed or unfinished till the day before you capitulated; on wch his Lordship bowed, which if Father Ignatius himself had done I must have considered as assenting. I dont mean that he has since denied it; but tis not a candid confession as it ought to have been.

41cN when I told his Lordship I knew nothing of a naval station in York River that was his in preference to the one I had directed him to take in James river—and that I never had had reason to think his works at York and Gloucester unfinished commanded or infiladed till the day before he capitulated His Lordship bowed—this surely must have been a bow of assent. a Newgate Solicitor will own it. I dont say L. C. ever denied either but as I have often remarked His letter of the 20th octr was written at St Omers, and one would imagine these letters were dated from the same Place I wonder that S H C had not some friend in the House of Lords, some common friend to Justice that did not remark the impropriety of calling for Lord Cornwallis answer to certain letters of S H C witht hearing the letters read to which they were answers.

42dC this letter Lord Cornwallis took with him to England had this letter been read in the House of Lords as L. Cornwallis of the 20th of Octr was by his desire, or had L G. Germain published my letter to him of the 2d Decr as I desired; the publick would have seen that many of the insinuations and many of the assertions in L. Cornwallis letter were unsupported, they would have seen also that even had all the insinuations all the assertions in Lord Cornwallis letter been as true as most are false, S H Clinton could not be blamed. that L. Cornwallis came into Virginia Contrary to S H C. orders, at the risk of losing C Town which he was ordered and had promised to secure. that S H C had in strongest terms pointed out the danger of solid operation in chesapeak (which he had been forced into by E. Cornwallis and the Mimister) without a Covering fleet, that the Minister had repeatedly & possitively promised that covering fleet, that S. G. R. had promised to bring or send it, that S S Hood assured S H C he had brought it that we had it however not in time. L.

Cornwallis is to blame in the first instance for coming into Virginia under the circumstances before mentioned he did, and when he might and ought to have known the Enemy at the hour he started had possession of the bay. the Ministers were to blame for rejecting the plan of the Comr in chief (perfectly safe & economical) till the 7th July when they approve it but alas too late. they were too blame in promising a covering fleet without insuring the means of our having it, Sir G. Rodney is to blame if the Conqueror of the 12. of April can be for not sending an equal force to that of the Enemy as he had promised, but how S H Clinton can be to blame he is at a loss to guess, he could not send L. Cornwallis back because he was ordered to support him in Virginia nay he is forbid to draw a man from thence he could not leave 2000 men & frigates &c in Chesapeake without a single place of arms to secure them, had he done so all was lost except L. Cornwallis moving corps the instant the Enemy (frigates even) come there; he could force L. C. into a bad post when his Lordship informed him he had chosen a good one, that it would be fortified in 6. weeks, and that he could spare from his defensive in it 1200 men. Under such promises & with such assurances of a Covering fleet & that even when the great superiority of the Enemy's Navy was known the admirals thought the junction with E. Cornwallis not attended with great risk and that success would place the Enemys Army in a very critical situation, I say under these Circumstances it was not for S H C. to advise E. Cornwallis to retreat, under the probable disgrace that must attend it; that no diversion could be of use all all agree L. Cornwallis most decidedly also. all all agree & L. C. also that the army acted most honorably in offering their aid to attempt to succor L. C. under the Circumstances and at the risk it must have been done, 43bC of the 4 last letters concluding the Correspondence between Lord Cornwallis and me, those of his Lordp are read, but mine in answer were not. had mine been read also in the House of Lords it would at least have appeared that I had given his Lordship my opinion that certain implications in that letter could not be supported by any orders I gave his Lordship or by our Correspondence, why they were not sent to the House of Lords with others the Minister of the day will explain: but I am astonished that Even L. C—friends would permit a letter of his Lordship's in answer to one of mine to be read without mine to which it was an answer. or that his Lordship should not himself have seen the impropriety of it.

44aC as to S H Clinton's being deceived in the Enemys intention by movements of W. army & Rochambeaus batteries, S H C was deceived but not by these it was by the Ministers and admirals letter and promises of a Covering fleet, under such Circumstances S H C was certain Washington would not go to Virginia, & under such S H C was certain if he did he would be undone; so says Washington himself in his letter to De Grasse (vide S H C. Narrative page ) but it seems Washington also had been promised a Covering Fleet, & what is worse he had one.

With respect to S H C. attacking Washington if he had had twice the force he had (not above 9300 including provincials) as W. could always have avoided a general action, nothing could have induced S H C. to have put it out of his power to have been ready for that important Expedition to R. Island where the admiral was prepared, which He being engaged in other operation would have done, but the fact is that had S H C. marched out with his whole force leaving N Y to a Militia (in those times doubtfull) to guard his posts &c. he would not have had a force sufficient to have looked at him much less to have attacked him in any of the many Strong positions he might have taken in that very strong country, & in which with an Army very superior he could not have made any impression; but with such an inferior force as S H C. had, to move against a superior army in such a Country, & at a time when he expected, & had every reason W Expected to be besieged by it was an absurdity no man in his Senses could be guilty off. had W. committed a faux pas in forming his investment before he had assembled his army perhaps something might have been tried, but it was assembled back of mountains & rivers, 40 miles from me, my little army was necessarily detached all over the Island, throwing up works defensive, it would have required some days to have assembled them at a point, the doing so would have put W. on his guard, not so with Lord Cornwallis at York Town, his little army full 7000 sailors included in arms, had an opportunity of making an attempt upon St Simons Corps of 3000 landed within 14 miles of him, or La fayettes not much further, or both for both together in numbers even were not equal to him; L. Cornwallis army was already assembled, the attempt could not take up 24 hours, the success certain, & even if he had failed in taking all these corps his retreat afterwards was secure to S. Carolina from whence his army but lately was come; in short without a covering fleet we had no business to attempt solid operation in Virginia, & even if he had the solid operation in that most Sickly province at a most sickly season is to be avoided; The plan of S H C for that Campaign lay in the provinces, north of chesapeak at that season, it was perfectly safe against even a permanent superiority of the Enemy at sea, had it been Negatively successful even the War must have finished that campaign in time leaving America Still dependant on G. B. but people affect to say they are so sick of the war, & its expenses, they are glad america is gone, the Ministers who supported the war, the opposition to those Ministers, the Generals & admirals who conducted it all are silent. I said before the event took place I say it now & I fear I shall have still much more reason to say that the loss of America particularly under the latest term of Lord Shelburne will lose.

EXTRACTS FROM THE JOURNALS OF THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

Die Martis, 27<sup>o</sup> Novembris, 1781.

* * * * His Majesty, being seated on the Throne, adorned with His Crown and Regal Ornaments, and attended by His Officers of State (the Lords being in their Robes) commanded the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod to let the Commons know, 'It 'is His Majesty's Pleasure they attend him immediately in this House ;'

Who being come, with their Speaker, His Majesty was pleased to say,

' My Lords and Gentlemen,

' When I last met you in Parliament, I acquainted ' you with the arduous Situation of Public Affairs at ' that Time ; and I represented to you the Objects ' which I had in View, and the Resolution with ' which I was determind to persevere in the Defence ' of my Dominions against the combined Power of ' My Enemies, until such a Pacification could be ' made as might consist with the Honour of My ' Crown, and the permanent Interest and Security of ' My People. The War is still unhappily prolonged ' by that restless Ambition which first excited our ' Enemies to commence it, and which still continues ' to disappoint My earnest Desire and diligent Exer- ' tion to restore the public Tranquillity : But I ' should not answer the Trust committed to the ' Sovereign of a free People, nor make a suitable ' Return to my Subjects for their constant, zealous and ' affectionate Attachment to My Person, Family and ' Government, if I consented to sacrifice, either to My ' own Desire of Peace, or to their Temporary Ease and ' Relief, those essential Rights and permanent ' Interests, upon the Maintenance and Preservation of ' which the future Strength and Security of this ' Country must ever principally depend.

‘The favourable Appearance of Our Affairs in the ‘East Indies, and the safe and prosperous Arrival of ‘the numerous Commercial Fleets of My Kingdoms, ‘must have given you Satisfaction ; but in the Course ‘of this Year, My assiduous Endeavours to guard the ‘extensive Dominions of My Crown, have not been ‘attended with Success equal to the Justice and ‘Uprightness of My Views ; and it is with great Con‘cern that I inform you, that the Events of War have ‘been very unfortunate to My Arms in Virginia, hav‘ing ended in the Loss of My Forces in that Province.

‘No Endeavours have been wanting on My Part to ‘extinguish that Spirit of Rebellion which Our Enemies ‘have found Means to foment and maintain in the ‘Colonies, and to restore to My deluded Subjects in ‘America that happy and prosperous Condition which ‘they formerly derived from a due Obedience to the ‘Laws ; but the late Misfortune in that Quarter calls ‘loudly for your firm Concurrence and Assistance to ‘frustrate the Designs of Our Enemies, equally pre‘judicial to the real Interests of America and to those ‘of Great Britain.

‘In the last Session, you made a considerable Pro‘gress in your Enquiries into the State and Condition
 ‘of our Dominions and Revenues in the East Indies :
 ‘You will, I am persuaded, resume the Prosecution of ‘that important Deliberation with the same Spirit and ‘Temper in which it was begun, and proceed with the ‘same Attention and Anxiety to consider how these ‘remote Provinces may be held and governed with the ‘greatest Security and Advantage to this Country, and ‘by what Means the Happiness of the Native Inhabi‘tants may be best promoted.

‘Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

‘I will order the Estimates for the ensuing Year to ‘be laid before you. I rely on your Wisdom and ‘Public Spirit for such Supplies as the Circumstances ‘of Our Affairs shall be found to require. Among the ‘many ill Consequences which attend the Continua‘tion of the present War, I most sincerely regret the ‘additional Burthens which it must unavoidably bring ‘upon My faithful Subjects.

‘My Lords and Gentlemen,

‘In the Prosecution of this great and important ‘Contest in which we are engaged, I retain a firm ‘Confidence in the Protection of Divine Providence,
‘and a perfect Conviction of the Justice of My Cause ;
‘and I have no Doubt but that by the Concurrence
‘and Support of My Parliament by the Valour of My ‘Fleets and Armies, and by a vigorous, animated and ‘united Exertion of the Faculties and Resources of ‘My People, I shall be enabled to restore the Blessing
‘of a safe and Honourable Peace to all My Dominions.’

Then His Majesty was pleased to retire ;

The Lord Chancellor reported His Majesty’s Speech,

And the same being read by the Clerk, Moved,
‘That an humble Address be presented to His Majesty,
‘to return His Majesty the Thanks of this House
‘for His most gracious Speech from the Throne.

‘To express the Concern and Indignation with ‘which we see the War prolonged by that restless ‘Ambition which first excited His Majesty’s Enemies
‘to commence it, and which still continues to dis‘appoint His Majesty’s earnest Desire and diligent ‘Exertion to restore the public Tranquillity.

‘To acknowledge with the sincerest and warmest ‘Gratitude His Majesty’s Wisdom and constant Atten‘tion to the real Welfare of His People, equally con‘spicuous in His earnest Desire of Peace, and in his ‘fixed and unalterable Resolution never to sacrifice ‘either to that Desire, or to the temporary Ease and ‘Relief of His Subjects, those essential Rights and ‘permanent Interests, upon the Maintenance and Pre‘servation of which, the future Strength and Security
‘of this Country must ever principally depend.

‘To declare the Satisfaction we feel in the favour‘able Appearance of our Affairs in the East Indies, and ‘in the safe and prosperous Arrival of the numerous ‘Commercial Fleets of these Kingdoms.

‘To express our Regret that in the Course of this ‘Year His Majesty’s assiduous Endeavours to guard
‘the extensive Dominions of His Crown have not been ‘attended with Success equal to the Justice and ‘Uprightness of His Majesty’s Views, and to lament ‘that the Events of War have been so unfortunate to ‘His Majesty’s Arms in Virginia.

‘To testify our grateful Sense of the parental Solici‘tude His Majesty has shewn for the general Happi‘ness of His People in the Endeavour His Majesty
‘has used to extinguish that Spirit of Rebellion ‘which our Enemies have found Means to foment and ‘maintain in the Colonies, and to restore to His ‘deluded Subjects in America that happy and pros‘perous Condition which they formerly derived from ‘a due Obedience to the Laws; and to assure His ‘Majesty of our firm Concurrence and Assistance to ‘frustrate the Designs of our Enemies, equally preju‘dicial to the real Interests of America and to those ‘of Great Britain.

‘To declare that we will, without Loss of Time,
‘resume the Deliberation upon the State and Con‘dition of the British Possessions and Revenues in the ‘East Indies; will carry it on with the same Spirit ‘and Temper in which it was begun, and proceed with ‘the same Attention and Anxiety to consider how ‘those remote Provinces may be held and governed ‘with the greatest Security and Advantage to this ‘Country, and by what Means the Happiness of the ‘native Inhabitants may be best promoted.

‘That firmly resolved to decline no Difficulty or ‘Hazard in the Defence of our Country, and for the ‘Preservation of its essential Rights and Interests, we ‘shall continue to give our most hearty Concurrence
‘and Support in the Prosecution of the great and ‘important Contest in which we are engaged.

‘That we rely upon the Protection of Divine Providence in so just a Cause ; and fully trust that by the Concurrence and Support which we shall most cheerfully give, by the Valour of His Majesty’s Fleets and Armies, and by the vigorous, animated, and united Exertions of the Faculties and Resources of His People, His Majesty will be enabled to disappoint the ambitious Designs of His Enemies, and to restore the Blessing of a safe and honourable Peace to all His Dominions.’

Then an Amendment was proposed to be made to the said Motion, by inserting after the Word (‘Throne’) at the End of the First Paragraph the following Words :

(‘And we will, without Delay, apply ourselves with united Hearts to prepare and digest such Councils to be laid at His Royal Feet, as may excite the Efforts, point the Arms, and command the Confidence of all His Subjects.’)

Which being objected to ; After long Debate,

The Question was put, ‘Whether these Words shall be inserted in the said Motion?’

It was resolved in the Negative.

Then it was moved ‘To agree to the said Motion as at first proposed.’

The Question was put thereupon?

It was resolved in the Affirmative.

‘DISSENTIENT.—For Reasons too often urged in vain for these last Seven Years against the ruinous Prosecution of the unjust War, carrying on by His Majesty’s Ministers against the People of North America, and too fatally confirmed by repeated Experience, and the late disgraceful Loss of a Second Army, to stand in Need of Repetition.

‘Most Gracious Sovereign,

‘We, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled, beg Leave to return Your Majesty our humble Thanks for Your most gracious Speech from the Throne.

‘ beg Leave to assure Your Majesty of our firm ‘ Concurrence and Assistance to frustrate the ‘ Designs of our Enemies, equally prejudicial to the ‘ real Interests of America and to those of Great ‘ Britain.

‘ We will, without Loss of Time, resume the ‘ Deliberation upon the State and Condition of the ‘ British Possessions and Revenues in the East Indies,

OF THE TRANSLATOR.

It will certainly appear strange that the Upper House of the English Parliament should have ordered that the correspondence between Lord Germain, Secretary of State for America, and the generals and admirals on that station, be made public. Such a publicity is unquestionably contrary to all rules of prudence and good policy, above all in time of war. Thus several noblemen, amongst others Lord Stormont, have made every effort to prevent it. The reasons alleged by this Secretary of State are so decisive, that one cannot understand how the opposition party did not yield to their evidence. I tremble, said Lord Stormont, foreseeing the disastrous consequences which will necessarily result from this step; secrets such as these, which ought to be regarded as sacred, should never be exposed to the curiosity of the public. To agree to the publication of such intelligence as the House demands, is an affair so serious, so important and so dangerous, that I should not wish even to venture upon the

TRADUCTEUR.

IL paroîtra sans doute étrange, que la chambre haute du Parlement d'Angleterre ait demandé, qu'on rendit publique la correspondance, entre le lord Germain secretaire d'Etat pour l'Amérique, & les généraux & amiraux qui étoient dans cette station. Une pareille publicité est certainement contre toutes les règles de la prudence & de la bonne politique, surtout en temps de guerre. Aussi plusieurs seigneurs, & entre autres le lord Stormont, ont-ils fait tous leurs efforts pour l'empêcher. Les raisons que ce secretaire d'Etat a alléguées sont si tranchantes, qu'on ne comprend pas comment le parti de l'opposition ne s'est pas rendu à leur evidence. Je tremble disoit lord Stormont, à la vue des funestes conséquences, qui découleront nécessairement de cette démarche; desemblables secrets, qui doivent être regardés comme sacrés, ne devoient jamais être exposés à la curiosité du public. Accorder la publication de pareilles intelligences, comme la chambre le demande, est une affaire si serieuse, si importante & si dangereuse, que je ne voudrois enumeration of the reasons which irresistibly force me to oppose this motion, for fear that in exposing them, though with all the circumspection possible, I might bring new dangers upon my country. He showed, that if it were approved, all hope of future good understandings must be renounced, because no one would be willing to risk his honour and his life whilst he was not assured that his correspondence would never be revealed, and that all the probability of success often depended upon secrecy.

The Dukes of Grafton and Manchester, Earls Shelburne and Abingdon, and Lord Townshend, insisted on the communication of the dispatches; they said, it was desirable to know to whom to attribute the loss of Yorktown and of the army of Earl Cornwallis, and for that it was necessary to have the correspondence in question; that in publishing it no one was exposed, as in saying that intelligence had been received from Paris that the fleet would set sail from Brest on such a day, no exposure was made of the person who had given that intelligence, etc.

pas même m'hasarder, d'entrer dans la déduction des raisons, qui me forcent irrésistiblement à m'opposer à cette motion, de peur qu'en les alléguant, même avec toute la circumspection possible, je n'accumule de nouveaux dangers sur ma patrie. Il a fait voir, que si elle étoit approuvée, il falloit renoncer à toute espérance d'avoir de bonnes intelligences dans la suite, parce que personne ne voudroit risquer son honneur & sa vie, lorsqu'il ne seroit pas assuré qu'on ne se permettroit jamais de révéler sa correspondance, & que c'étoit du secret que dependoit souvent, toute la probabilité du succès.

Les ducs de Grafton & de Manchester, les comtes de Shelburne & d'Abingdon, le lord Townshend, ont insisté sur la communication des dépêches, ils ont dit, qu'il convenoit de savoir à qui on devoit attribuer la cause de la perte de Yorktown, & de l'armée du comte Cornwallis, & que pour cela, il falloit nécessairement avoir la correspondance en question; qu'en la publiant on n'exposoit personne, qu'en disant qu'on avoit reçu avis de Paris, que la flotte de Brest devoit mettre à la voile un tel jour, on ne disoit pas qui étoit celui qui avoit donné cette intelligence &c.

Whatever may be the validity of the reasons alleged for and against the publication of the correspondence, the opposition party carried the motion. But it is very probable that if a similar debate were to take place to-day in the Upper House, the opposition of that time, who are now at the head of affairs, would not be willing to listen to proposals for any communication of dispatches, and would make use of the same arguments that Lord Stormont did, to demonstrate the disastrous and pernicious consequences which would result therefrom. Tempora mutantur & nos mutantur in illis.

It is easy to see by the correspondence, that the misfortunes of the campaign of 1781 in Virginia, can only be attributed to the lack of concert in the plans of the English generals. Earl Cornwallis, without any fixed purpose in view, advances towards North Carolina, by the way he gains some advantages, which induce him to push forward with more ardour; he crosses the numerous rivers of that province, no one disputing his passage; but Greene meanwhile marches by the back of South Carolina and cuts

Quoi qu'il en soit, de la validité des raisons alléguées pour & contre la publication de la correspondance, le parti de l'opposition l'a emporté. Mais il est très probable, que si pareil débat avoit lieu aujourd'hui dans la chambre haute, les opposans de ce temps là, qui sont actuellement à la tête des affaires, ne voudroient pas entendre parler d'aucune communication de dépêches, & qu'ils se serviroient des mêmes argumens du lord Stormont, pour démontrer les funestes & pernicieux effets qui en resulteroient. Tempora mutantur & nos mutantur in illis.

Il est aisé de voir par la correspondance, que les malheurs de la campagne de 1781 en Virginie, ne doivent être attribués qu'au peu de concert qu'il y a eu dans les plans des généraux Anglois. Le comte Cornwallis, sans aucun but déterminé, s'avance vers la Caroline septentrionale; chemin faisant il remporte quelques avantages, qui lui font pousser sa pointe, avec plus d'ardeur; il passe les nombreuses rivières de cette Province, sans que personne se présente pour lui en disputer le passage; mais Greene pendant ce temps là, marche par les derrières de la off all communication with that province ; the English general is at a loss how to extricate himself from his position, he sees only two alternatives, the one to embark and return by sea to Charlestown ; but this seems to him a disgraceful plan to follow, and dishonouring to the glory of the British arms ; the other to advance into Virginia there to join the troops under the command of General Phillips, and he prefers the latter ; he arrives at last, but after having lost the half of his men by sickness and the sword of the enemy, so that he was obliged to request fresh succour from General Clinton ; who, much against his will, sends a reinforcement under the convoy of the "Charon" man-of-war ; but hardly had it arrived, than it is recalled on the pretext that General Washington was threatening New York, which was nothing more than a feint to delude General Clinton. Lord Cornwallis, enfeebled by

Caroline méridionale, & lui coupe toute communication avec cette Province ; le général Anglois ne sait comment se tirer de ce mauvais pas, il ne voit que deux expédiens, l'un de s'embarquer & de retourner par mer à Charlestown ; mais ce plan lui paroît honteux à suivre, & flétrissant pour la gloire des armes Britanniques ; l'autre c'est de s'avancer dans la Virginie, pour y joindre le corps de troupes sous les ordres du général Philips, & c'est celui qu'il préfère ; il arrive enfin, mais après avoir perdu la moitié de son monde, par les maladies & par le fer de l'ennemi, de sorte qu'en arrivant il fallut demander de nouveaux secours au général Clinton ; celui-ci envoie, assez malgré lui, un renfort sous le convoi du vaisseau de guerre le Charon ; mais à peine étoit-il arrivé, qu'on le redemande,<sup>1</sup> sous prétexte que le général Washington menaçoit la Nouvelle-York ;<sup>2</sup> ce qui n'étoit qu'une feinte pour donner le change au général Clinton. Le lord the loss of the detachment he had been obliged to return, soon finds himself confined by the Marquis de la Fayette and Washington, in the two posts of Yorktown and Gloucester, which he had fortified to the best of his ability. Meanwhile General Clinton was forming plans to go to his assistance by land, but none are found practicable. There still remained one resource,—that of going by sea; 5000 men are embarked on board the fleet, but Cornwallis is obliged to surrender before a single vessel has put to sea. All this is exactly a repetition of General Burgoyne; he came through Canada to effect a junction with General Howe, he presses forward and overcomes all obstacles, these successes encourage him, he entangles himself in the ravines and defiles of the mountains of Saratoga, General Gates prevents his exit, he finds himself surrounded on all sides, without power

Cornwallis affoibli par le détachement qu'il avoit été obligé de faire,<sup>1</sup> se voit bientôt enfermé par le Marquis de la Fayette, & par Washington, dans les deux postes de Yorktown & de Gloucester, qu'il avoit fortifié du mieux qu'il avoit pu. Pendant ce temps là le général Clinton formoit des plans, pour aller à son secours, par terre,<sup>2</sup> mais aucun ne se trouve praticable; il restoit encore une ressource, c'étoit d'aller par mer; on embarque 5000 hommes, à bord de la flotte, mais Cornwallis est obligé de se rendre avant qu'un seul vaisseau ait pu mettre à la voile. Tout cela est exactement, le second tome du général Bourgoyne; ce dernier vint par le Canada pour faire une jonction avec le général Howe, il pousse devant lui & dissipe tout ce qui veut y mettre obstacle, ces succès l'encouragent, il s'engage dans les gorges & dans les défilés des montagnes de Saratoga, le général Gates l'empêche de déboucher, il se voit enveloppé de tous cotés sans pouvoir faire un pas

de L. Cornwallis plus tôt ce n'étoit pas aux moins sa faute. [Sir H. Clinton did not form any plan to go by land, and if he did not go to the assistance of L. Cornwallis sooner, it was, at least, not his fault.] to move a step to the right or left ; and no other alternative remains but to surrender or perish with hunger. Such catastrophes surely should not happen more than once. But it was said long ago,—the mistakes of the fathers are lost upon the children.

Another thing which clearly proves that the affairs of the English have been badly conducted in America, is that the American loyalists alone were superior in number to the rebels. How then has it come to pass that troops double in numbers, well paid, and wanting nothing, aided besides by a German army, have failed in opposing the partizans of liberty, who, badly paid and badly equipped, often lacked everything? Manifestly it is in the different capacity of the commanders, that we must seek for the counterweight which has turned the scale in favour of the latter. If the English had had a Washington at the head of their army, there would long since have been no more question of war on the American continent. The two generals Clinton and Cornwallis possess opposite qualities, which have brought ruin upon their affairs. The one à droite, ou à gauche, & il ne lui reste d'autre alternative, que celle de se rendre ou de périr de faim. Il semble que de pareilles catastrophes ne devroient arriver qu'une fois. Mais on l'a dit il y a longtemps, les fautes des pères sont perdues pour les enfans.

Une chose qui prouve encore évidemment, que les affaires des Anglois ont été mal conduites en Amérique, c'est que les loyalistes Américains seuls, étoient en plus grand nombre que les insurgents. Comment donc s'est-il pu faire que des troupes supérieures du double, bien payées & ne manquant de rien, épaulées outre cela d'une armée d'Allemands, ayent échoué, vis-à-vis des partisans de la liberté, qui mal payés, & mal équipés, manquoient souvent de tout. C'est manifestement dans la différente capacité des chefs, qu'il faut chercher ce contre-poids, qui a fait pencher la balance en faveur des derniers. Si les Anglois avoient eu un Washington à la tête de leur armée, il y a longtemps qu'il ne seroit plus question de guerre sur le continent de l'Amérique. Les deux généraux Clinton & Cornwallis possèdent des qualités opposées, qui ont été la ruine de leurs affaires. L'un was too dilatory in the execution of his plans, and the other too eager in the pursuit of his own, the one marred all by delay, the other lost all by too great haste. If Earl Cornwallis had possessed the phlegm of Sir Henry Clinton, he would have remained in possession of South Carolina and Georgia, but ambitious for new laurels he has blighted those already won. On the other hand, if Sir Henry Clinton had had the zeal and activity of Lord Cornwallis he would have marched with all his forces to join the latter while there was yet time, as Cornwallis advised, and with 20,000 good troops they would have overthrown all who opposed them. M. Linguet has said somewhere in his annals that the secretaries of the Congress were better than the secretaries of the English generals. The same may be said of the generals themselves.

1 des veritees. [the truth.]

2 aux lieux de conseiller le che. Clinton de venir par terre il a toujours invite de venir par mer. [instead of advising Sir H. Clinton to come by land he always invited him to come by sea.]

3 Le Che. Clinton encore un fois n'avoit que 9300 hommes toutes Contes. il fallu laisser 5000 a la nouvelle York pouvoit il aller mettoit trop de lenteur dans l'exécution de ses plans, & l'autre trop de vivacité dans la poursuite des siens, l'un a tout gaté en differant, & l'autre s'est perdu en trop poussant. Si le comte Cornwallis avoit eu le flegme de Sir Henri Clinton, il seroit resté en possession de la Caroline méridionale & de la Georgie, mais avide de nouveaux lauriers, il la [sic] flétri ceux qu'il avoit cueillis.<sup>1</sup> D'un autre coté, si le chevalier Clinton avoit eu l'ardeur & l'activité du Lord Cornwallis, il auroit marché avec toutes ses forces pour joindre ce dernier, dans le temps qu'il le pouvoit encore, comme Cornwallis le conseilloit,<sup>2</sup> & avec 20000 hommes de bonnes troupes ils auroient culbutés tout ce qui se seroit opposé à eux.<sup>3</sup> M. Linguet a dit quelque part, dans ses annales, que les secretaires du Congres étoient meilleurs que les secretaires des généraux Anglois. On en peut dire autant des généraux eux mêmes.

avec 3000 en Virginia par terre ayant etè promis une flotte ne devoit il pas attendre d'en recevoir une. [Sir H. Clinton, once more had only 9300 men all told. He was obliged to leave 5000 at New York, could he go with 3000 into Virginia by land—having been promised a fleet, must he not expect to receive one?]

The description of the corps under the command of General Cornwallis in Virginia, brings to our notice a defect in the constitution of English armies, which can produce nothing but evil results,—there was not a due proportion of officers,—above all there was not a single English colonel; now, it is well known that the officers are the soul of an army, and that colonels have more influence over the soldiers of their regiments than the generals themselves. A bigot would also say that the ill success of the English is not surprising since they neither heard sermons nor attended church services. In fact, it does not appear that they had a single chaplain, though the Germans had two. The Duke of Burgundy, grandson of Louis XIV, attributed the loss of the battle of Oudenarde to the want of devotion on the part of the Duke of Vendôme. See what comes Sir, said he, of not going to mass. But, replied the Duke de Vendôme, M. de Marlborough goes no more than I do. Oh! Marlborough, Marlborough, of glorious memory! your countrymen have great need of a general such as you.

Le tableau du corps sous les ordres du général Cornwallis, en Virginie, nous fait remarquer un vice dans la constitution des armées Angloises, qui ne peut que produire de mauvais effets, c'est qu'il n'y avoit pas une due proportion d'officiers; & surtout pas un seul colonel Anglois; or on sait que les officiers sont l'ame d'une armée, & que les colonels ont plus d'influence sur les soldats de leurs régimens que les généraux eux mêmes. Un bigot diroit aussi, qu'on ne doit pas être surpris du mauvais succès des Anglois, puisqu'ils n'alloient ni à prêche, ni à messe. On ne voit pas en effet, qu'ils aient eu un seul Chapelain les Allemands en avoient deux. Le duc de Bourgogne petit fils de Louis XIV, attribuoit la perte du combat d'Oudenarde, au peu de dévotion du duc de Vendôme. Voilà ce que c'est, Monsieur lui dit-il de ne pas aller à la messe. Mais Monsieur de Marlborough, n'y va pas plus que moi repondit le duc de Vendôme. Oh! Marlborough, Marlborough, de triomphante mémoire! vos compatriotes auroient grand besoin d'un général comme vous.
